BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN CHRIST-CENTERED LEADERSHIP, COACHING, AND CHANGE

(BCL-100 SERIES - Asynchronous Degree Program)

Overview

The Bachelor of Science Degree in Christ-Centered Leadership, Coaching, and Change is a full program offering academic instruction that leads to a degree in faith-based coaching, mentoring, training and instruction of 21st century best practices of the Christian faith. This program offers organized postsecondary instruction in approved subjects that lead to an academic, professional, or vocational degree certificate in ministry covering such topics as:

- Executive Coaching to Pastors and Faith-based Leaders;
- Leadership in Faith-based Organizations;
- Faith-based teaching on Philosophy and Religious Instruction - Post-secondary;
- Faith-based Life Coaching or Counseling not elsewhere specified.

The program is designed to prepare students for their "Callings and Careers" which we define as life activities revealed to you by God for your spiritual growth and Kingdom purposes. As students apply what they learn, we believe God for our students to become enlightened by Christ to utilize their faith to make a measurable difference and positive impact in the world.

Degree Program Requirements

The Bachelor of Science Degree in Christ-Centered Leadership, Coaching, and Change requires completion of 16 Core Courses including textbook lectures, labs, and discussion groups posted by instructors for a total of 126 program contact hours. This information is described in greater detail and shown in the Program Course Outline below and in each Course Syllabus. Program completion requires a minimum total of 126 program hours.

A Complete Synopsis of each Subject offered for this Program is found in the Course Catalog.

Program Objective/Purpose

- To provide organized postsecondary instruction in approved subjects that lead to an academic, professional, or vocational degree or certificate in ministry and faith-based coaching. mentoring, training and instruction of 21st century best practices of the Christian faith.

- To prepare students for their Callings and Careers defined as life activities revealed to students by God for spiritual “Kingdom” purposes.
- To help students become enlightened by Christ to utilize their faith to make a measurable difference and positive impact in the world.
- To prepare and present an educated body of believers in Christ to serve God and love humanity.

The Bachelor of Science degree program specializing in Christ-Centered Leadership, Coaching, and Change provides exposure to Christ-Centered leadership and coaching disciplines as well as a depth of understanding of those disciplines through use of coaching services, techniques, training, mentoring, and instruction. The program outcomes are to present a prepared and educated body of believers in Christ to serve God and love humanity through their callings and careers as:

- Executive Coaches to Pastors and Faith-based Leaders;
- Leaders in Faith-based Organizations;
- Faith-based teachers on Philosophy and Religious Instruction - Post-secondary;
- Faith-based Life Coaches or Counselors not elsewhere specified.

The program equips you on how to become a better YOU by providing coaching practices, skills, and opportunities for applying of those skills for deepening understanding of ongoing personal and spiritual formation. This Degree program is not designed or intended to meet requirements of any given employment profession or licensing as a professional outside of faith-based instruction, ministry or Christian calling. It is designed to provide you with the skills for holistic development as a person and servant to God and humanity.

Instruction is provided in the core competencies of coaching and leadership principles through educational books, resources, as well as Scripture and contemporary articulation of the Word of God from within our Christian community. The goal of the program is to provide opportunities through which the student may grow in personal faith, emotional maturity, moral integrity, personal leadership, and public witness, for personal and spiritual formation. The program provides education for careful self-reflection on the role of Christian values as a good citizen, parent, leader, guide, neighbor, and servant of the faith community. The program also provides opportunities to assist students in developing commitment to coaching practices as a way of life in general, and of the Christian faith and Christian life (e.g., expressions of justice, leadership development, the devotional life, personal ethics and character, morals, development, and evangelistic witness) in particular.

In addition, the Program objectives equip Christian faith-based groups, churches, pastors, leaders, and lay members with the tools, training, and skills needed to be more effective in ministry. By use of the word ministry, we do not necessarily mean a particular organization or association, but rather personal service to Christ, an inner-reflection, and one's own life journey in the Christian faith.

Refer to the Estimated Length of Time in Months for Completion of the Program shown in the Program Course Outline section and the policy on Progress Standards and Academic Probation

Application Requirements

The prospective Bachelor candidate must hold a High School Diploma, or GED, or the student must prove that he/she possesses the academic background capable of pursuing the degree. Upon receipt of the completed application process, a consultation with Admissions will take place, and a determination will be made concerning the prospective candidate's eligibility.

*Transfer Students:

Credit for previous education or training will be granted for students entering programs requiring more than 40 program hours, provided that the previous education or training is related to ELTU or ELTU alliance coach-specific education. In such cases, information about such previous education, training, and work experiences disclosed by the student to the school on the Record of Previous Education and Training Form will be evaluated and may result in a program or course length being shortened and the cost being reduced. How to Complete this Program

- Step 1: Login to ELTU Student Portal.
- Step 2: Search and Download Course Syllabus materials.
- Step 3: Post once weekly to Instructor's ELTU Discussion Forum.
- Step 4: Journal Lesson Summary from textbook reading and intimate time with God.
- Step 5: Turn in Coaching Lab or other assignment from course outline.
- Step 6: Receive Written Feedback and Grade from Course Instructor.
- Step 7: Repeat above steps for Each Course in the Program Outline.

Start in any month. You will complete one course at a time in sequential order as shown in the Program Outline. Students can work at their own pace as long as they complete – one course approximately every term and no later than the time period in the Course Outline and Instructor's Syllabus.

Note for the Bachelor's Program Only

If you start in November, December, or January it is preferred and suggested (but not required) that you start with either Course # BCL-113 – STORYBOARDING YOUR TESTIMONY or Course # BCL-115- OPENING UP TO GOD AND SELF. This is because these months include the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year holidays. Otherwise, students will automatically begin with the first Course # BCL-101 – INTRO TO CHRIST-CENTERED COACHING & MENTORING and will continue with each course in sequential order one course at a time submitted for grading until all courses are finished in the program.

Student Advisory Roadmap

Below is an example for illustrative purposes only of one way a student may choose to do the Bachelor's program. The ELTU Admissions Office will work with the student upon enrollment to assist the student in determining his/her own customized Student Advisory Roadmap. The Student Advisory Roadmap is a suggested guide to help students complete the program within their desired timeframe. Each Student Advisory Roadmap varies depending on the student's goal and timeline for completion. The Student Advisory Roadmap, the Instructor's Syllabus, and the University's policies on Progress Standards are all meant to be used together to help the student complete his/her chosen program successfully. (See Progress Standards and Academic Probation)

Core Course Lectures

The Core Courses Lectures typically consists of one textbook or a combination of textbook readings, videos, podcasts, and/or workbooks. The Core Courses listed also typically require a course paper to be submitted using the required textbook designated for the course as shown in the Course Catalog and Course Syllabus. Textbooks may be ordered via Amazon or any major online bookstore. Although all textbooks may be ordered simultaneously, assignments must be submitted one at a time in the order of the courses listed in the Program Course Outline for grading and feedback purposes.

To pass the course, upon reading the textbook for each Core Course Reading Lecture, you will write a 5 to 10-page summary describing what you read. Unless otherwise instructed, you may only use the specified textbook authorized in the Program Course Catalog for each Course. You will submit the written course paper for a grade. Your course paper should reflect at least a half-page of written summary for each chapter in the book. No less than 5 pages and no more than 10 pages of written material will be accepted for the course paper. In your course paper, you must cite the page number like this (page XX) referring to the page number from where you have drawn your conclusions or remarks in your paper. Your instructor will refer to the Grading Rubric shown in this manual to determine your grade for each course, so be sure to review the Grading Rubric so that you will have an idea of what is expected for each grade.

All students in the program will do a weekly check-in by participating in the Live Group ELTU Discussion Forum Online or Posted ELTU Discussion Forum Online. The student will continue this weekly check-in process for the duration of the program using the instructions found in the Class

Syllabus. If a student has missed four weekly ELTU Discussion Forum check-ins or has not been consistent with Live Group ELTU Discussion Forum Online or Posted ELTU Discussion Forum Online, the Instructor may recommend that the student be withdrawn from the program roster (see policy on Satisfactory Progress and Academic Probation).

When ready to submit each of your Course assignments or papers, student will submit each assignment/paper electronically one at a time via secured methods and instructions provided in the Course Syllabus. The student will receive a grade or feedback from the instructor after each completed assignment so that remarks can be considered for continued learning and completing future assignments. Refer to the Grading Rubric.

Labs

While completing each core course, the student will also complete two 1-hour coaching labs for each Course Number BCL 101 through BCL 112. The coaching lab may focus on any topic raised by the person being coached; it does not have to be a topic in the course textbook. The student not the school is responsible for establishing the coaching relationship with a person being coached; this means the student will make himself/herself accessible in a coaching relationship to explore the coaching process for the benefit of the person being coached. Students will refer to the detailed instructions below to see the coaching lab requirements for each course.

Lab Details

Student will put together two 1-hour live coaching sessions recorded with permission for each Course Number BCL 101 through BCL 112. As shown in the Complete Listing of Subjects, the student must submit at least 2 coaching labs for any one core course and a minimum of (8) labs is required for the entire program; the student may choose to complete all of the core course coaching labs depending on his/her outcome goals. After recording the coaching session with the permission of the person being coached, the student will submit an audio recording for performance evaluation purposes and continuous improvement. Coaching Lab should be a coaching session engagement with any individual who is not already a coach (unless the person is a regular client). The coaching lab may be a paid or pro-bono coaching session. Coaching labs enable the student to practice learned techniques and identify strengths and weaknesses, highlight areas for improvement, and track and monitor coaching performance. The labs become a source of motivation and reward for the student to use as a tool to assist in planning their development and growth. Permission must be granted in the recorded session by the individual being coached to use the coaching session. Students will keep a copy of the coaching lab recording file for their records and submit one file for their coaching lab evaluation grade.

Lab File Guidelines

- In MP3, WMA or MP4 (audio) formats. Other formats will not be accepted. 95 megabytes or less for each file. Use a lower bit rate to decrease file size, if needed.
- Student will label the files with student's name and a number, i.e., JoeSmith1.mp3.
- Providing a URL to download or stream audio recordings will not be accepted.
- A complete coaching session (unedited) lasting between 20 and 60 minutes. Those that exceed 60-minutes will not be scored.
- From an actual live coaching session between the student and a paid or pro-bono client. The individual being coached may not be a coach unless they are a regular client of the student's practice.
- English language only is acceptable when coaching session is submitted for this course.

ELTU Discussion Forum Online

ELTU Instructors offer either a Live Group ELTU Discussion Forum Event or an ELTU Student Community Discussion Forum Online. The ELTU Discussion Forum is the place for knowledge sharing with those who are enrolled at ELTU currently, or to hear from others who have been enrolled previously and have posted their experiences and comments in reply to the Instructor's Questions covered in the Course Curriculum / Syllabus. These questions are typically regarding personal, professional, or spiritual transformation, leadership, coaching, change management, or any aspect of the given course or program. Where you see an icon labelled "ELTU Discussion Forum" or content labelled as such in your Class syllabus, your participation in the ELTU Discussion Forum is required and will be graded to successfully complete the program. Where indicated in your Syllabus, a student may attend a live ELTU Discussion Forum via ELTU events or ELTU live seminars offered in lieu of posting to the ELTU student community discussion board. If these live events are available, they will be posted to the ELTU student community discussion boards and listed on your syllabus. If a student has not attended either a Live ELTU Discussion Forum Event Seminar or ELTU Posted Discussion Forum Online to perform and complete the required weekly check-ins, the Instructor may recommend to the School Director that the student be withdrawn from the program (see policy on Satisfactory Progress and Academic Probation).

Learning outcomes for each of the core courses in the Master's degree program are required in the course assignments along with assessments for each course. The Master's courses will be completed in sequential order as shown in the Program Outline for student achievement of program outcomes. The ELTU Master's degree program is a minimum of 96 course time hours which can be completed in no less than 8 months and no more than 24 months from the date of initial enrollment in the ELTU Master's degree program. At a minimal, students must complete assignments within the assignment completion timeframes outlined in the policy on Satisfactory Progress and Academic Probation.

Application Requirements

The prospective Master's candidate must hold a Bachelor's degree conferred by ELTU or from a nationally or regionally accredited educational institution. Upon receipt of the application and consultation, a determination will be made concerning the prospective candidate's eligibility. Due to the accelerated Master's program, transfer hours from another Master's program may not be acceptable for the ELTU Master's degree program.

Transfer Students:

Credit for previous education or training will be granted for students entering programs requiring more than 40 program hours, provided that the previous education or training is related to ELTU or ELTU alliance coach-specific education. In such cases, information about such previous education, training, and work experiences disclosed by the student to the school on the Record of Previous Education and Training Form will be evaluated and may result in a program or course length being shortened and the cost being reduced. (See policy: Credit for Previous Training and Experience)

How to Complete this Program

- Step 1: Login to ELTU Student Portal.
- Step 2: Search and Download Course Syllabus materials.
- Step 3: Post once weekly to Instructor's ELTU Discussion Forum.
- Step 4: Journal Lesson Summary from textbook reading and intimate time with God.
- Step 5: Turn in Coaching Lab or other assignment from course outline.
- Step 6: Receive Written Feedback and Grade from Course Instructor.
- Step 7: Repeat above steps for Each Course in the Program Outline.

Start in any month. You will complete one course at a time in sequential order in Program Outline. Students can work at their own pace as long as they complete – one course approximately every term and no later than the time period in the Course Outline and Instructor's Syllabus.

Student Advisory Roadmap

Below is an example for illustrative purposes only of one way a student may choose to do the Master's Degree program. The ELTU Admissions Office will work with the student upon enrollment to assist the student in determining his/her own customized Student Advisory Roadmap. The Student Advisory Roadmap is a suggested guide to help students complete the program satisfactorily within their desired timeframe. Each Student Advisory Roadmap varies depending on student's goal and timeline for program completion. The Student Advisory Roadmap, the Instructor's Syllabus, and the University's policies on Progress Standards are all meant to be used together to help the student complete his/her chosen program successfully. (See Progress Standards and Academic Probation)

Students May Start in Any Month

JAN	COACHING FROM GOD
FEB	COACHING TO TEACH YOURSELF
MAR	COACHING FOR COURAGE
APR	COACHING FOR IMPACT
MAY	LEADERSHIP LIFE PRINCIPLES II
JUN	COACHING TO DECIDE
JUL	COACHING FOR DEMOCRACY

Core Course Lectures

The Core Courses Lectures typically consists of one textbook or a combination of textbook readings, videos, podcasts, and/or workbooks. The Core Courses listed also typically require a course paper to be submitted using the required textbook designated for the course as shown in the Course Catalog and Course Syllabus. Textbooks may be ordered via Amazon or any major online bookstore. Although all textbooks may be ordered simultaneously, assignments must be submitted one at a time in the order of the courses listed in the Program Course Outline for grading and feedback purposes.

In order to pass the course, upon reading the textbook for each Core Course Reading Lecture, you will write a 5 to 10-page summary describing what you read. Unless otherwise instructed, you may only use the specified textbook authorized in the Program Course Catalog for each Course. You will submit the written course paper for a grade. Your course paper should reflect at least a half-page of written summary for each chapter in the book. No less than 5 pages and no more than 10 pages of written material will be accepted for the course paper. In your course paper, you must cite the page number like this (page XX) referring to the page number from where you have drawn your conclusions or remarks in your paper. Your instructor will refer to the Grading Rubric shown in this manual to determine your grade for each course, so be sure to review the Grading Rubric so that you will have an idea of what is expected for each grade.

All students in the program will do a weekly check-in by participating in the Live Group ELTU Discussion Forum Online or Posted ELTU Discussion Forum Online. The student will continue this weekly check-in process for the duration of the program using the instructions found in the Class

Syllabus. If a student has missed four weekly ELTU Discussion Forum check-ins or has not been consistent with Live Group ELTU Discussion Forum Online or Posted ELTU Discussion Forum Online, the Instructor may recommend that the student be withdrawn from the program roster (see policy on Satisfactory Progress and Academic Probation).

When ready to submit each of your Course assignments or papers, student will submit each assignment/paper electronically one at a time via secured methods and instructions provided in the Course Syllabus. The student will receive a grade or feedback from the instructor after each completed assignment so that remarks can be considered for continued learning and completing future assignments. Refer to the Grading Rubric.

Labs

While completing each core course, the student will complete two 1-hour coaching labs for each Core Course in the Program Course listing. The coaching lab may focus on any topic raised by the person being coached; it does not have to be a topic in the course textbook. The student not the school is responsible for establishing the coaching relationship with a person being coached; this means the student will make himself/herself accessible in a coaching relationship to explore the coaching process for the benefit of the person being coached. Students will refer to the detailed instructions below to see the coaching lab requirements for each course.

Lab Details

Student will put together two 1-hour live coaching sessions recorded with permission for each Course as shown in the Complete Listing of Subjects. The student must submit at least 2 coaching labs for any one core course and a minimum of (8) labs is required for the entire program; the student may choose to complete all of the core course coaching labs depending on his/her outcome goals. After recording the coaching session with the permission of the person being coached, the student will submit an audio recording for performance evaluation purposes and continuous improvement. Coaching Lab should be a coaching session engagement with any individual who is not already a coach (unless the person is a regular client of the student). The coaching lab may be a paid or pro-bono coaching session. Coaching labs enable the student to practice learned techniques and identify strengths and weaknesses, highlight areas for improvement, and track and monitor coaching performance. The labs become a source of motivation and reward for the student to use as a tool to assist in planning their development and growth. Permission must be granted in the recorded session by the individual being coached to use the coaching session. Students will keep a copy of the coaching lab recording file for their records and submit one file for their coaching lab evaluation grade.

Lab File Guidelines

- In MP3, WMA or MP4 (audio) formats. Other formats will not be accepted. 95 megabytes or less for each file. Use a lower bit rate to decrease file size, if needed.

- Student will label the files with student's name and a number, i.e., JoeSmith1.mp3.
- Providing a URL to download or stream audio recordings will not be accepted.
- A complete coaching session (unedited) lasting between 20 and 60 minutes. Those that exceed 60-minutes will not be scored.
- From an actual live coaching session between the student and a paid or pro-bono client. The individual being coached may not be a coach unless they are a regular client of the student's practice.
- English language only is acceptable when coaching session is submitted for this course.

ELTU Discussion Forum Online

ELTU Instructors offer either a Live Group ELTU Discussion Forum Event or an ELTU Student Community Discussion Forum Online. The ELTU Discussion Forum is the place for knowledge sharing with those who are enrolled at ELTU currently, or to hear from others who have been enrolled previously and have posted their experiences and comments in reply to the Instructor's Questions covered in the Course Curriculum / Syllabus. These questions are typically regarding personal, professional, or spiritual transformation, leadership, coaching, change management, or any aspect of the given course or program. Where you see an icon labelled "ELTU Discussion Forum" or content labelled as such in your Class syllabus, your participation in the ELTU Discussion Forum is required and will be graded to successfully complete the program. Where indicated in your Syllabus, a student may attend a live ELTU Discussion Forum via ELTU events or ELTU live seminars offered in lieu of posting to the ELTU student community discussion board. If these live events are available, they will be posted to the ELTU student community discussion boards and listed on your syllabus. If a student has not attended either a Live ELTU Discussion Forum Event Seminar or Posted ELTU Discussion Forum Online to perform and complete the required weekly check-ins, the Instructor may recommend to the School Director that the student be withdrawn from the program (see policy on Satisfactory Progress and Academic Probation).

GRADUATE DEGREE IN EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP, PASTORAL CARE, & CHANGE MANAGEMENT

(GCL-400 SERIES - Asynchronous Degree Program)

Overview

The Graduate Degree Program in Executive Leadership, Pastoral Care, & Change Management is for faith-based individuals who are aspiring to become coach practitioners to pastors, faith-based executives, and leaders. To earn the Graduate Degree Program in Executive Leadership, Pastoral Care, & Change Management, students must complete (8) required reading lectures and Core Course papers from their reading lectures, as well as perform the accompanying labs for each lecture. Using the list of approved textbooks, completion of this Degree will result in the Graduate Degree in Executive Coaching, Pastoral Leadership & Change Management. The total completion hours from all Core Course textbooks combined is 80-hours of reading lectures with (8) course papers. In addition, this Degree requires 8 to 16-hours of lab consisting of a combination of recorded coaching sessions with transcripts and student posts to ELTU Discussion Forums provided (if any) by the instructor. Program completion requires a minimum of 88 program course time hours as shown in the Program Course Outline.

A Complete Synopsis of each Subject offered for this Program is found in the Course Catalog.

Program Objective/Purpose

The ELTU Doctor of Philosophy degree program is designed to offer coaching practice-oriented content leading to an advanced degree in Christ-Centered Leadership, Coaching, and Change. The program identifies and teaches competencies that support advancements in the field of Coaching in a spiritual, faith-based, or ministerial capacity. Graduates of the doctoral degree program demonstrate the ability to conduct, interpret, and apply the results of appropriate coaching research. Adequate oversight and advising are provided through all phases of the doctoral program, including required fieldwork.

The program requires a total of 111 graduate course time hours, inclusive of: 80 hours of core coursework lectures, up to 16 hours of live coaching labs as fieldwork (a minimum of 8 hours of coaching labs are required), plus a final dissertation research paper or doctoral capstone project consisting of 15 hours. The doctoral degree program is designed to be self-paced and completed in no fewer than 12 months and no more than 36 months from the date of initial enrollment at ELT. At a minimal, students are encouraged to follow the assignment timing guidelines as outlined in the policy on Progress Standards and Academic Probation.

Application Requirements

The prospective doctoral candidate must hold an earned Master's degree conferred by ELTU or an approved educational institution. Upon receipt of the application and consultation, a determination will be made concerning the prospective candidate's eligibility. Due to the nature of the ELTU Doctoral program, transfer hours from another Doctoral program may not be acceptable for the ELTU Doctoral degree program.

*Transfer Students:

Credit for previous education or training will be granted for students entering programs requiring more than 40 program hours, provided that the previous education or training is related to ELTU or ELTU alliance coach-specific education. In such cases, information about such previous education, training, and work experiences disclosed by the student to the school on the Record of Previous Education and Training Form will be evaluated and may result in a program or course length being shortened and the cost being reduced. Student Advisory Roadmap

Below is an example for illustrative purposes only of one way a student may choose to do the PhD in Christ-Centered Coaching program. The ELTU Admissions Office will work with the student upon enrollment to assist the student in determining his/her own customized Student Advisory Roadmap. The Student Advisory Roadmap is designed to be a suggested guide to help students complete the program satisfactorily within their desired timeframe. Each Student Advisory Roadmap varies depending on the student’s goal and timeline for program completion. The Student Advisory Roadmap, the Instructor’s Syllabus, and the University’s policies on Progress Standards are all meant to be used together to help the student complete his/her chosen program successfully. (See Progress Standards and Academic Probation)

Core Course Lectures

The Core Courses Lectures typically consists of one textbook or a combination of textbook readings, videos, podcasts, and/or workbooks. The Core Courses listed also typically require a course paper to be submitted using the required textbook designated for the course as shown in the Course Catalog and Course Syllabus. Textbooks may be ordered via Amazon or any major online bookstore. Although all textbooks may be ordered simultaneously, assignments must be submitted one at a time in the order of the courses listed in the Program Course Outline for grading and feedback purposes.

In order to pass the course, upon reading the textbook for each Core Course Reading Lecture, you will write a 5 to 10-page summary describing what you read. Unless otherwise instructed, you may only use the specified textbook authorized in the Program Course Catalog for each Course. You will submit the written course paper for a grade. Your course paper should reflect at least a half-page of written summary for each chapter in the book. No less than 5 pages and no more than 10 pages of written material will be accepted for the course paper. In your course paper, you must cite the page number like this (page XX) referring to the page number from where you have drawn your conclusions or remarks in your paper. Your instructor will refer to the Grading Rubric shown in this manual to determine your grade for each course, so be sure to review the Grading Rubric so that you will have an idea of what is expected for each grade.

All students in the program will do a weekly check-in by participating in the Live Group ELTU Discussion Forum Online or Posted ELTU Discussion Forum Online. The student will continue this weekly check-in process for the duration of the program using the instructions found in the Class Syllabus. If a student has missed four weekly ELTU Discussion Forum check-ins or has not been consistent with Live Group ELTU Discussion Forum Online or Posted ELTU Discussion Forum Online, the Instructor may recommend that the student be withdrawn from the program roster (see policy on Satisfactory Progress and Academic Probation).

When ready to submit each of your Course assignments or papers, student will submit each assignment/paper electronically one at a time via secured methods and instructions provided in the Course Syllabus. The student will receive a grade or feedback from the instructor after each completed assignment so that remarks can be considered for continued learning and completing future assignments. Refer to the Grading Rubric.

Labs

While completing each core course, the student will complete two 1-hour coaching labs for each Core Course in the Program Course listing. The coaching lab may focus on any topic raised by the person being coached; it does not have to be a topic in the course textbook. The student not the school is responsible for establishing the coaching relationship with a person being coached; this means the student will make himself/herself accessible in a coaching relationship to explore the coaching process for the benefit of the person being coached. Students will refer to the detailed instructions below to see the coaching lab requirements for each course.

Lab Details

Student will put together two 1-hour live coaching sessions recorded with permission for each Course as shown in the Complete Listing of Subjects. The student must submit at least 2 coaching labs for any one core course and a minimum of (8) labs is required for the entire program; the student may choose to complete all of the core course coaching labs depending on his/her outcome goals. After recording the coaching session with the permission of the person being coached, the student will submit an audio recording for performance evaluation purposes and continuous improvement. Coaching Lab should be a coaching session engagement with any individual who is not already a coach (unless the person is a regular client of the student). The coaching lab may be a paid or pro-bono coaching session. Coaching labs enable the student to practice learned techniques and identify strengths and weaknesses, highlight areas for improvement, and track and monitor coaching performance. The labs become a source of motivation and reward for the student to use as a tool to assist in planning their development and growth. Permission must be granted in the recorded session by the individual being coached to use the coaching session. Students will keep a copy of the coaching lab recording file for their records and submit one file for their coaching lab evaluation grade.

Lab File Guidelines

- In MP3, WMA or MP4 (audio) formats. Other formats will not be accepted. 95 megabytes or less for each file. Use a lower bit rate to decrease file size, if needed.

- Student will label the files with student's name and a number, i.e., JoeSmith1.mp3.
- Providing a URL to download or stream audio recordings will not be accepted.
- A complete coaching session (unedited) lasting between 20 and 60 minutes. Those that exceed 60-minutes will not be scored.
- From an actual live coaching session between the student and a paid or pro-bono client. The individual being coached may not be a coach unless they are a regular client of the student's practice.
- English language only is acceptable when coaching session is submitted for this course.

ELTU Discussion Forum Online

ELTU Instructors offer either a Live Group ELTU Discussion Forum Event or an ELTU Student Community Discussion Forum Online. The ELTU Discussion Forum is the place for knowledge sharing with those who are enrolled at ELTU currently, or to hear from others who have been enrolled previously and have posted their experiences and comments in reply to the Instructor's Questions covered in the Course Curriculum / Syllabus. These questions are typically regarding personal, professional, or spiritual transformation, leadership, coaching, change management, or any aspect of the given course or program. Where you see an icon labelled "ELTU Discussion Forum" or content labelled as such in your Class syllabus, your participation in the ELTU Discussion Forum is required and will be graded to successfully complete the program. Where indicated in your Syllabus, a student may attend a live ELTU Discussion Forum via ELTU events or ELTU live seminars offered in lieu of posting to the ELTU student community discussion board. If these live events are available, they will be posted to the ELTU student community discussion boards and listed on your syllabus. If a student has not attended either a Live ELTU Discussion Forum Event Seminar or Posted ELTU Discussion Forum Online to perform and complete the required weekly check-ins, the Instructor may recommend to the School Director that the student be withdrawn from the program (see policy on Satisfactory Progress and Academic Probation).

Dissertation / Doctoral Capstone Project

The doctoral degree requires a doctoral dissertation or doctoral capstone project involving original contributions to the field of Christ-Centered coaching, leadership, and/or change management study using applied research methods. The student's planned or proposed dissertation or capstone project topic must be reviewed and approved by the School's director in advance. The student will submit the topic to the instructor electronically using the form for Doctoral Dissertation Title / Doctoral Capstone Project Proposal Idea Submission. A dissertation or capstone project manual is provided online that includes guidelines on identifying, researching, writing, and presenting the selected topic. Dissertations or capstone projects are appropriately defended by the doctoral candidates before a doctoral committee via distance learning live video recording. A committee of appropriately credentialed doctoral leaders will receive and review the completed dissertation or capstone project. Doctoral degrees are awarded upon final approval by a majority of the doctoral committee.

- Maximum # of months: 24
- Students are encouraged to follow the assignment timing guidelines outlined in the policy on Progress Standards and Academic Probation.
- Minimum # of course labs required is 4 labs equal to 8 contact hours; plus 15 hours of dissertation equals 23 lab hours total.

A Complete Synopsis of each Subject offered for this Program is found in the Course Catalog.

Program Objective/Purpose

The ELTU Doctor of Philosophy degree program is designed to offer coaching practice-oriented content leading to an advanced academic focus on Human Capital Leadership and Change. The program identifies and teaches competencies that support advancements in the field of organizational people leadership in a spiritual, faith-based, or ministerial capacity. Graduates of the doctoral degree program demonstrate the ability to conduct, interpret, and apply the results of appropriate coaching research. Adequate oversight and advising are provided through all phases of the doctoral program, including required fieldwork.

The program requires a total of 111 graduate course time hours, inclusive of: 80 hours of core coursework lectures, up to 16 hours of live coaching labs as fieldwork (a minimum of 8 hours of coaching labs are required), plus a final dissertation research paper or doctoral capstone project consisting of 15 hours. The doctoral degree program is designed to be self-paced and completed in no fewer than 12 months and no more than 36 months from the date of initial enrollment at ELT. At a minimal, students are encouraged to follow the assignment timing guidelines as outlined in the policy on Progress Standards and Academic Probation.

Application Requirements

The prospective doctoral candidate must hold an earned Master's degree conferred by ELTU or an approved educational institution. Upon receipt of the application and consultation, a determination will be made concerning the prospective candidate's eligibility. Due to the nature of the ELTU Doctoral program, transfer hours from another Doctoral program may not be acceptable for the ELTU Doctoral degree program.

*Transfer Students:

Credit for previous education or training will be granted for students entering programs requiring more than 40 program hours, provided that the previous education or training is related to ELTU or ELTU alliance coach-specific education. In such cases, information about such previous education, training, and work experiences disclosed by the student to the school on the Record of Previous Education and Training Form will be evaluated and may result in a program or course length being shortened and the cost being reduced. (See policy: Credit for Previous Training and Experience)

How to Complete this Certificate

Core Course Lectures

This Graduate Seminar certificate is taught in live online instruction course time hours. No course papers are required. Using the D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. CORE COMPETENCIES FOR COACHING curriculum developed by Dr. Merle Ray, this program is typically presented on weekends as full-day courses. The material is based upon the International Coach Federation (ICF) definition of coaching, its code of ethics, standards, core values and core Competencies and is estimated to take as little as 2 months when delivered on full-day weekends. To complete the training hours for the program, the student must attend and participate for all offered live sessions. This Graduate Seminar certificate is for individuals wanting to become professional coaches in their own private practice or those who seek opportunities to coach inside corporate business and industry. Graduates use this information to either set up their own coaching practice, coach in organizations, or blend coaching with their existing areas of work expertise. This program is only offered when there is a waiting list of at least 10 students enrolled. There is an approved textbook for this program which also serves as a workbook and contains all of the lessons, instructions for the performance evaluations/coaching labs, and assessments. All lectures, labs, performance evaluations, and assessments must be attended live. There are (8) courses in this program worth 16 course time hours. Two labs are allowed for each course and each lab is a live coaching session worth 1 clock hour totaling up to 16 total coaching hours. To earn the Graduate Seminar Series - Certificate in Professional Coaching, students must attend and participate in all (8) of the required live core course lectures, and they must complete a minimum of (8) recorded live coaching sessions, i.e. coaching labs. These recorded sessions will be observed and rated as performance evaluations. The student can obtain up to a total of 144 course time hours of direct program instruction to earn the Graduate Seminar Series - Certificate in Professional Coaching, and a minimum of 136 program hours of instruction, including the coaching labs.

Labs

As mentioned above, during the program, the student will setup, record, and complete a minimum of (8) coaching sessions and up to a maximum of (16) coaching sessions worth 1 clock hour each. Including any prep work, each coaching session may last up to 60 minutes. The sessions may take place online or offline at his/her convenience working with the person being coached. The student, not the school, is responsible for acquiring, setting up, recording, and completing the coaching session with his/her client or persons being coached. The student has up to the end of the program to complete all coaching sessions. At the end of the program to receive the Certificate, the student must submit each coaching session to be evaluated by the instructor. The coaching session recordings may be presented to the International Coach Federation (ICF) as performance evaluations for the School's training and quality purposes, as well as for any future ICF accreditation or application process. Each Performance Evaluation coaching session is focused on the person being coached and what he/she is presenting for their coaching work and conversation. The student will record the session with permission being granted on the recording from the person being coached and a word-for-word verbatim transcript must accompany the recording. Session can be a coaching engagement with an individual who is or is not a student in the program. The session may not be with a coach already (unless the person is a regular client of the coaching student). The session may be a paid or pro-bono coaching session. These sessions should enable the student to practice learned coaching principles, methods, and techniques from the lectures and identify strengths and weaknesses, highlight areas for improvement, and track and monitor performance. The performance evaluation labs become a source of motivation and reward for the student's development and growth as a professional coach. Other tools such as the ICF Professional Coach Markers are also utilized as reference and evaluation tools.

There is no minimum length of time required for the performance evaluation coaching session. Sessions should be long enough for a coaching conversation. These sessions will be evaluated by an instructor/observer who is responsible for providing written feedback to the student, noting the student's use of the ICF Core Competencies in the coaching session. These sessions may be observed live by the instructor/observer or offline, but still must be recorded each time. The coaching sessions count as part of the total instructional hours of the program. ELTU may submit these coaching sessions, and the corresponding written feedback for the submitted recording to student sponsors, court or governmental agencies, ICF, or other outside agencies for program purposes such as review for school or program accreditation, continuous improvement, quality purposes, and to enhance the learning experience.

Confidentiality must be maintained in coach training lab sessions. ELTU will only submit recordings for which ELTU has received explicit permission from the person being coached and the student for review purposes and performance evaluation assessing the quality and methods of the coaching. Students will keep a copy of all their recorded coaching files. The maximum # of recordings a student may submit for performance evaluation purposes to the instructor is 2 recorded coaching sessions for each of the courses in this graduate program. When ready to submit the performance evaluation coaching sessions, the student will upload each recording and a typed transcript electronically using the student's secured user login ID and password. Feedback will be provided in the form of a written performance evaluation report from the instructor and this information may also be provided to the International Coach Federation or other agencies for program or school accreditation purposes.

Lab File Guidelines

- In MP3, WMA or MP4 (audio) formats. Other formats will not be accepted. 95 megabytes or less for each file. Use a lower bit rate to decrease file size, if needed.
- Student will provide a word-for-word verbatim transcript of the coaching session and label the recorded files with student's name and a number, i.e., JoeSmith1.mp3.
- Providing a URL to download or stream audio recordings will not be accepted.
- Of a complete coaching session (not edited) lasting up to 60 minutes. Those that exceed 60-minutes will not be scored.
- From an actual coaching session between the student and a paid or pro bono client. The individual being coached may not be a coach unless they are a regular client of the student's ministry or coaching practice.
- English language only is acceptable when coaching session is submitted for this course.

ELTU Discussion Forum Online

ELTU Instructors offer either a Live Group ELTU Discussion Forum Event or an ELTU Student Community Discussion Forum Online. The ELTU Discussion Forum is the place for knowledge sharing with those who are enrolled at ELTU currently, or to hear from others who have been enrolled previously and have posted their experiences and comments in reply to the Instructor's Questions covered in the Course Curriculum / Syllabus. These questions are typically regarding personal, professional, or spiritual transformation, leadership, coaching, change management, or any aspect of the given course or program. Where you see an icon labelled "ELTU Discussion Forum" or content labelled as such in your Class syllabus, your participation in the ELTU Discussion Forum is required and will be graded to successfully complete the program. Where indicated in your Syllabus, a student may attend a live ELTU Discussion Forum via ELTU events or ELTU live seminars offered in lieu of posting to the ELTU student community discussion board. If these live events are available, they will be posted to the ELTU student community discussion boards and listed on your syllabus. If a student has not attended either a Live ELTU Discussion Forum Event Seminar or Posted ELTU Discussion Forum Online to perform and complete the required weekly check-ins, the Instructor may recommend to the School Director that the student be withdrawn from the program (see policy on Satisfactory Progress and Academic Probation).

Online Assessment

An assessment of the student's knowledge gained from the course is necessary to measure progress and readiness for professional coaching. The Online Coaching Assessment tests the student's understanding of the body of knowledge that includes the ICF definition of coaching, Core Competencies, core values, standards, and Code of Ethics, and is intended to measure coaches' understanding of the knowledge and skills important in the practice of coaching.

How to Complete this Certificate

Core Course Lectures

The Master's Seminar Series - Certificate in Professional Coaching (M-CPC) Program is an advanced Graduate Seminar certificate taught in live online instruction. No course papers are required. Using the D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. CORE COMPETENCIES FOR COACHING curriculum developed by Dr. Merle Ray, this program is typically presented on weekends as full-day courses. The material is based upon the International Coach Federation (ICF) definition of coaching, its code of ethics, core values, standards, and core competencies and is estimated to take as little as 3 months when delivered on full-day weekends. To complete the training hours for the program, the student must attend and participate for all offered live sessions. This Master's Seminar certificate is designed to assist individuals wanting to apply master's level skills in their own private practice or in seeking opportunities for coaching in corporate business and industry. Graduates may desire to set up their own coaching practice, seek opportunities to coach in organizations, or blend coaching with their existing areas of work expertise. This program is only offered when there is a waiting list of at least 10 students enrolled. There is an approved textbook for this program which also serves as a workbook and contains all of the lessons, instructions for the performance evaluations/coaching labs, and assessments. All lectures, labs, performance evaluations, and assessments must be attended live. There are (11) live synchronous learning courses in this program worth 16 course time hours and (1) Independent Study course worth 15 program hours. Up to (20) individual live coaching labs worth 20 program hours are allowed for this ELTU program; a minimum of (8) individual live coaching labs are required totaling 8 program hours. To earn the Master's Seminar Series - Certificate in Professional Coaching, students must attend and participate in all the required live core course lectures, and they must complete a minimum of (8) recorded live coaching sessions, i.e. coaching labs. These recorded sessions will be observed and rated as performance evaluations. The student can obtain up to a total of 211 course time hours of direct program instruction to earn the Master's Seminar Series - Certificate in Professional Coaching, and a minimum of 200 program hours of instruction, including the coaching labs.

Labs

As discussed above, during the program period, the student will setup, record, and complete at least (9) coaching sessions worth one program clock hour each. Including any prep work, each coaching session may last up to 60 minutes. The sessions may take place online or offline at his/her convenience working with the person being coached. The student, not the school, is responsible for acquiring, setting up, recording, and completing the coaching session with his/her client or persons being coached. The student has up to the end of the program to complete all coaching sessions. At the end of the program to receive the Certificate, the student must submit each coaching session to be evaluated by the instructor. The coaching session recordings may be presented to the International Coach Federation (ICF) as performance evaluations for the School's training and quality purposes, as well as for any future ICF accreditation or application process. Each Performance Evaluation coaching session is focused on the person being coached and what he/she is presenting for their coaching work and conversation. The student will record the session with permission being granted on the recording from the person being coached and a word-for-word verbatim transcript must accompany the recording. Session can be a coaching engagement with an individual who is or is not a student in the program. The session may not be with a coach already (unless the person is a regular client of the coaching student). The session may be a paid or pro-bono coaching session. These sessions should enable the student to practice learned coaching principles, methods, and techniques from the lectures and identify strengths and weaknesses, highlight areas for improvement, and track and monitor performance. The performance evaluation labs become a source of motivation and reward for the student's development and growth as a professional coach. Other tools such as the ICF Professional Coach Markers are also utilized as reference and evaluation tools.

There is no minimum length of time required for the performance evaluation coaching session. Sessions should be long enough for a coaching conversation. These sessions will be evaluated by an instructor/observer who is responsible for providing written feedback to the student, noting the student's use of the ICF Core Competencies in the coaching session. These sessions may be observed live by the instructor/observer or offline, but still must be recorded each time. The coaching sessions count as part of the total instructional hours of the program. ELTU may submit these coaching sessions, and the corresponding written feedback for the submitted recording to student sponsors, court or governmental agencies, ICF, or other outside agencies for program purposes such as review for school or program accreditation, continuous improvement, quality purposes, and to enhance the learning experience.

Confidentiality must be maintained in coach training lab sessions. ELTU will only submit recordings for which ELTU has received explicit permission from the person being coached and the student for review purposes and performance evaluation assessing the quality and methods of the coaching. Students will keep a copy of all their recorded coaching files. The maximum # of recordings a student may submit for performance evaluation purposes to the instructor is 2 recorded coaching sessions for each of the courses in this graduate program. When ready to submit the performance evaluation coaching sessions, the student will upload each recording and a typed transcript electronically using the student's secured user login ID and password. Feedback will be provided in the form of a written performance evaluation report from the instructor and this information may also be provided to the International Coach Federation or other agencies for program or school accreditation purposes.

Lab File Guidelines

- In MP3, WMA or MP4 (audio) formats. Other formats will not be accepted. 95 megabytes or less for each file. Use a lower bit rate to decrease file size, if needed.
- Student will provide a word-for-word verbatim transcript of the coaching session and label the recorded files with student's name and a number, i.e., JoeSmith1.mp3.
- Providing a URL to download or stream audio recordings will not be accepted.
- Of a complete coaching session (not edited) lasting up to 60 minutes. Those that exceed 60-minutes will not be scored.
- From an actual coaching session between the student and a paid or pro bono client. The individual being coached may not be a coach unless they are a regular client of the student's ministry or coaching practice.
- English language only is acceptable when coaching session is submitted for this course.

ELTU Discussion Forum Online

ELTU Instructors offer either a Live Group ELTU Discussion Forum Event or an ELTU Student Community Discussion Forum Online. If these live events are available, they will be posted to the ELTU student community discussion boards and listed on your syllabus. If a student has not attended either a Live ELTU Discussion Forum Event Seminar or Posted ELTU Discussion Forum Online to perform and complete the required weekly check-ins, the Instructor may recommend to the School Director that the student be withdrawn from the program (see policy on Satisfactory Progress and Academic Probation).

Online Assessment

An assessment of the student's knowledge gained from the course is necessary to measure progress and readiness for professional coaching. The Online Coaching Assessment tests the student's understanding of the body of knowledge that includes the ICF definition of coaching, Core Competencies, core values, standards, and Code of Ethics, and is intended to measure coaches' understanding of the knowledge and skills important in the practice of coaching.

CHRIST-CENTERED MBA SEMINAR SERIES

(MBA-300 SERIES CERTIFICATE - Asynchronous Seminar Series)

Overview

The Christ-Centered MBA Seminar Series is an Inner-Healing for the Soul course that enhances a student's ministry (as opposed to a program which prepares a student for work in a particular occupation). The Christ-Centered MBA Seminar Series consists of multiple teachings combined in a series totaling 30-hours of asynchronous spiritual development and learning that enhances a student's learning from the inside out. This seminar series offers a life-changing and transformational curriculum consisting of exploration of one's soul through independent study, fieldwork, and personal action planning. In this series of courses, you will record and capture what you are observing and learning about yourself and your spiritual walk and how that information is impacting who you are and who you want to become. These decisions can transform you for the rest of your life – impacting one's calling and career. The Christ-Centered MBA is a Seminar certificate, not an accredited MBA Degree Program. Unlike traditional MBA programs, which focus primarily on business administrative skills, the Christ-Centered MBA is Inner Healing for the Soul, a certificate seminar series that gives you faith-based insights, biblical skills, and spiritual practices such as spiritual observation and vision, biblical alignment, spiritual intimacy, communion with God, as well as the opportunity for deep personal reflection. Attaining these skills is more important than ever in understanding what it takes to lead a fulfilling life. The decisions you make across these disciplines determine what you believe to be your calling and career assignments in life. 30 program contact hours of exercises and journaling will be done through a series of approved messages and/or course textbooks that you will choose from the Christ-Centered MBA Program Track.

Program Objective/Purpose

SPIRITUAL FULFILLMENT & LEADERSHIP REDEFINED

At ELT, we believe that personal and business success requires more than strategy, tactics, financial and material resources. Most people agree that there is something intangible that sets one leader apart from another. The Christ-Centered MBA mission is to help individuals apply their full potential by creating consistent and visible outer impact through pro-active inner mastery of their faith in God. This very profound independent self-study work is based on biblical truths about God, His ways, His nature, and how He's uniquely wired you, particularly to handle difficult periods through trials and breakthroughs. The approach starts with the premise that fulfillment of any kind and type is mastered when we focus our attention on becoming the best version of ourselves, the person God created us to be in the image of Christ. Our thoughts, behaviors, emotions, internal beliefs and mindset are all predicated on what we believe about God, our Father and Creator. We believe that impact-lasting behavioral change is stemmed from the inside out, demonstrating what it means to love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, mind, soul, and strength. To that end, this program will challenge your growth and personal development in these areas with the goal and purpose to:

- Assist individuals with defining spiritual fulfillment.
- Equip believers who are looking to redefine their leadership and concepts for fulfillment.
- Assist individuals with personally identifying how spiritual beliefs, intimacy with God, and actions taken impact their behavior in their callings and careers.

How to Complete this Certificate

Core Course Lectures

There are no papers nor coaching labs required for this Seminar Series certificate. Students will select their preference of Courses from the Approved Courses and textbooks listed in the Program Course Outline chart. Course selections must total at least 30 hours of coursework. Materials required for the Course (if any, such as CD messages/audio) are listed in each course and must be purchased by the student. Students will complete each lesson in the approved textbook by filling in the questions with answers and reflections as they consider the textbook material. These materials are form-fillable pdfs so students may type directly into the electronic book. Students may also journal in the textbook material. Students are free to include their opinions whether they agree or disagree with the author's material in the textbooks. Once completing each textbook, student will electronically submit their completed workbook as a pdf typewritten copy of their document to the instructor. Students must submit one Course completed at a time before moving to the next course.

PERSONAL MINISTRY COACH

(PMC-100 SERIES CERTIFICATE Asynchronous Seminar Series)

Overview

The Personal Ministry Coach Program seeks to equip believers in leading others and living a transforming unshakable life of faith even amid unprecedented change in the world using coaching skills. The disruption of the past year has left many church-goers and believers alike feeling stranded, disconnected, out-of-synch with the rest of the Body of Christ, and less confident about the amount of progress that can actually take place in life. As the world health crisis continues to lurk around the globe, there is political and racial unrest. People everywhere try to focus on work and nations make economic decisions continually struggling to make sense of what to do next in a post-COVID environment. The need for an approachable personal minister to co-partner with through a coaching relationship, helping a person navigate their way through change is an all-too-important task – much too important to leave to the way things were before 2020.

ELTU specializes in stepping faith-based leaders through the foundational building blocks of becoming a Christ-Centered Coach, Leader, and navigator of change. Students who enroll in our Personal Ministry Coach program work at their own pace and are not required to attend live classes but will audit each class and complete two live coaching sessions for each of the first ten courses as shown in the Complete Course Listing. Students must pass the end of program assessments and no course papers are required. Students of the Personal Ministry Coach program are interested in becoming trained ELTU coaches, and may choose to enhance their careers by becoming a published author, personal minister or speaker. In order to accomplish this educational goal, students will audit the Master's Seminar Series - Certificate in Professional Coaching program and complete all of the required coaching labs, learning the same principles as taught in our live instructor-led version. Students work at their own pace as long as they follow their Course Outline, Instructor's Syllabus, and/or Student Advisory Roadmap. The Student Advisory Roadmap is a tool suggested upon enrollment to help meet the student's timetable for completion and follow the guidelines and policies on Performance and Satisfactory Progress. To earn the Personal Ministry Coach Graduate Certificate, students take up to 6-weeks to audit each course in the program by reviewing the course textbook and class materials, completing any exercises outlined in the course syllabus and workbook, including but not limited to the required coaching labs, and then completing a knowledge assessment of what was learned at the end of each course. Upon successful completion of all courses in the Personal Ministry Coach program, the student will be recognized by ELTU as a Personal Ministry Coach and receive the Personal Ministry Coach. Program completion requires a total of 211 program hours covering the courses shown below.

Program Objective/Purpose

- To equip Christian faith-based groups, churches, pastors, leaders, and lay members with the tools, training, and skills needed to become established faith-based leaders and practitioners through use of core competencies in coaching.
- To teach and train others to reach their full potential in the Kingdom of God by excelling in coaching skills and practices.
- To motivate, inspire, and empower individuals to become more effective and fulfilled personally, professionally, socially, and spiritually through coach-specific training, best-practices, ELT-recognized certificates, and instruction.

How to Complete this Certificate

The Personal Ministry Coach Program allows students to audit the Master's Seminar Series - Certificate in Professional Coaching (M-CPC) Program. By audit, we mean that the student can take the course by reviewing the materials on their own without having to attend a live instructor-led class. When finished reviewing each course in the textbook, the student will take an online assessment to determine the knowledge gained. When all assessments have been completed satisfactorily, and the student has completed all the required coaching labs, then the student earns the Graduate Certificate Personal Ministry Coach.

Core Course Lectures

Using the D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. CORE COMPETENCIES FOR COACHING curriculum developed by Dr. Merle Ray, this program is presented via textbook. No course papers are required. The material is covered in a workbook based upon the International Coach Federation Core Competencies and is estimated to take as little as 3 months and as much as 24 months depending on the student's pace. To complete the training hours for the program, the student must review all textbook material and complete the assessments. The first 136 hours of the program consists of completion of the Course Numbers G-CPC 101 through G-CPC 108 based upon the International Coach Federation Core Competencies, and the ICF's definition of coaching. The remaining 66 hours of the program are the M-CPC continued in the D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. CORE COMPETENCIES FOR COACHING curriculum with Courses M-CPC 109 through M-CPC 112. The Personal Ministry Coach program is for individuals who are looking to maximize their ministry potential through utilizing advanced mastery in not only coaching but mentoring and discipleship as well. There is an approved textbook for this program which covers all 11 courses, and a minimum of 20 performance evaluation coaching labs are required for the program. Each course is worth 16 course time hours. Course M-CPC 112 Independent Study is worth 15 course time hours. To become a Personal Ministry Coach, students must audit all the courses, pass the online coach knowledge assessment, and perform the accompanying 20 coaching labs as discussed below. The combined total of 211 course time hours is required in this program.

Labs

During the program period, the student will setup, record, and complete two coaching sessions worth 1 clock hour each for Courses in this Program (Course Number G-CPC101-A through Course Number M-CPC110-A) for a total of (20) required coaching sessions. Including any prep work, the coaching sessions may last up to 60 minutes. The sessions may take place online or offline at his/her convenience working with the person being coached. The student, not the school, is responsible for acquiring, setting up, recording, and completing the coaching session with his/her client or persons being coached. The student must complete each of the required coaching labs for each course within the timeframe allowed for each course on the Student Advisory Roadmap (typically two coaching labs completed every 11 weeks or less) in order to complete all (20) of the required coaching sessions. At the end of each 11 weeks course period or earlier, the student must submit each coaching session to be evaluated by the instructor and complete the online knowledge assessment. Performance evaluation for the coaching session is focused on the person being coached and what he/she is presenting for their coaching conversation. The student will record the session with permission being granted on the recording from the person being coached. Session can be a coaching engagement with an individual who is or is not a student in the program. The session may not be with a coach already (unless the person is a regular client of the coaching student). The session may be a paid or pro-bono coaching session. These sessions should enable the student to practice learned coaching principles, methods, and techniques from the lectures and identify strengths and weaknesses, highlight areas for personal, professional, and/or spiritual formation and improvement as a Christ-Centered coach, and track and monitor performance. The performance evaluation labs become a source of motivation and reward for the student to use as a tool to assist in obtaining their Coaching Certificate and planning for their development and growth.

There is no minimum length of time required for the performance evaluation coaching session. Sessions should be long enough for a coaching conversation. These sessions will be observed by an instructor/observer who is responsible for providing written feedback to the student, noting the student's use of the ICF Core Competencies in the coaching session. These sessions may be observed live by the instructor/observer or after the fact, so they must always be recorded. The coaching sessions count as part of the total instructional hours of the program. ELTU may submit recorded observed coaching sessions, and the corresponding written feedback for the submitted recording to student sponsors, court or governmental agencies, or outside agencies upon student's written request, specifically for program purposes.

Confidentiality must be maintained in coach training lab sessions. ELTU will only submit recordings for which ELTU has received explicit permission from the person being coached and the student for review purposes and performance evaluation assessing the quality and methods of the coaching. Students will keep a copy of all their recorded coaching files. The maximum # of recordings a student may submit for performance evaluation purposes to the instructor is 2 recorded coaching sessions for each of the courses in this graduate program. When ready to submit the performance evaluation coaching sessions, the student will upload each recording and a typed transcript electronically using the student's secured user login ID and password. Feedback will be provided in the form of a written performance evaluation report from the instructor and this information may also be provided to the International Coach Federation or other agencies for program or school accreditation purposes.

Lab File Guidelines

- In MP3, WMA or MP4 (audio) formats. Other formats will not be accepted. 95 megabytes or less for each file. Use a lower bit rate to decrease file size, if needed.
- Student will provide a word-for-word verbatim transcript of the coaching session and label the recorded files with student's name and a number, i.e., JoeSmith1.mp3.
- Providing a URL to download or stream audio recordings will not be accepted.
- Of a complete coaching session (not edited) lasting up to 60 minutes. Those that exceed 60-minutes will not be scored.
- From an actual coaching session between the student and a paid or pro bono client. The individual being coached may not be a coach unless they are a regular client of the student's ministry or coaching practice.
- English language only is acceptable when coaching session is submitted for this course.

ELTU Discussion Forum Online

ELTU Instructors offer either a Live Group ELTU Discussion Forum Event or an ELTU Student Community Discussion Forum Online. The ELTU Discussion Forum is the place for knowledge sharing with those who are enrolled at ELTU currently, or to hear from others who have been enrolled previously and have posted their experiences and comments in reply to the Instructor's Questions covered in the Course Curriculum / Syllabus. These questions are typically regarding personal, professional, or spiritual transformation, leadership, coaching, change management, or any aspect of the given course or program. Where you see an icon labelled “ELTU Discussion Forum” or content labelled as such in your Class syllabus, your participation in the ELTU Discussion Forum is required and will be graded to successfully complete the program. Where indicated in your Syllabus, a student may attend a live ELTU Discussion Forum via ELTU events or ELTU live seminars offered in lieu of posting to the ELTU student community discussion board. If these live events are available, they will be posted to the ELTU student community discussion boards and listed on your syllabus. If a student has not attended either a Live ELTU Discussion Forum Event Seminar or Posted ELTU Discussion Forum Online to perform and complete the required weekly check-ins, the Instructor may recommend to the School Director that the student be withdrawn from the program (see policy on Satisfactory Progress and Academic Probation).

Adding on the Bachelor’s Degree

ELTU offers several ways to elevate your educational success. Students in the Personal Ministry Coach program, can elevate their brilliance by adding one course paper worth 20 contact hours to earn their Bachelor of Science degree in Christ-Centered Leadership, Coaching, and Change. These 20 program hours for the course paper are added to the above Personal Ministry Coach program. Your Course Paper would cover the foundational principles you have learned in the Personal Ministry program and should be no less than 20 pages and no more than 50 pages in length. In your course paper, you must cite the textbook and page number when you are drawing your conclusions or referring to statements, remarks or talking points you have read from the textbook. Your Course Paper must contain at least 20 cited references and must use APA formatting to properly structure your writing. Students would turn in this Bachelor of Science Bridge Course Paper at the end of their Personal Ministry Coach Graduate Seminar certificate for the paper to be graded and the credits to be given toward the Bachelor’s program contact hours. Upon successful completion, a student would have earned 211 hours (Seminar certificate) + 20 contact hours (in the Bachelor’s Degree Bridge) = 231 total program contact hours to be awarded both the Personal Ministry Coach and the Bachelor of Science degree in Christ-Centered Leadership, Coaching, and Change. See below for the Program Course Outline for Personal Ministry Coach plus the Bachelor’s Degree bridge.

Adding on the Master's Degree

ELTU students who desire to go beyond the Bachelor's program may upskill into the Master of Science in Christ-Centered Leadership, Coaching, and Change once they have completed the Bachelor's Add-on bridge. This is accomplished by adding just one additional coaching lab to the Course Numbers G-CPC-101A through M-CPC-110A in the Personal Ministry Coach program as shown below in the Certificate Plus Bachelor's & Master's Degree Bridge Program Course Outline chart. Each coaching lab is worth 1 additional contact hour, making the total number of coaching lab program hours equal to 30 instead of 20 in this bridge or learning path for those students who are completing their Master's degree along with the Personal Ministry Coach. Students would turn in their Coaching Lab work at the end of each of their Personal Ministry Coach program courses for the labs to be graded and the credits to be given completing the Masters' degree program. Upon successful completion of all courses in both of these bridge programs, a student would have earned 231 hours + 10 additional coaching lab hours = 241 total program contact hours to be awarded all three :

- Personal Ministry Coach;
- Bachelor of Science degree in Christ-Centered Leadership, Coaching, and Change;
- Master of Science degree in Christ-Centered Leadership, Coaching, and Change

Adding on the Doctoral Degree

The bridge to the Doctor of Philosophy specializing in Christ-Centered Leadership, Coaching, and Change is the ultimate learning experience for the ELTU student who desires to go into faith-based coaching private industry practice or faith-based entrepreneurship. To accomplish this elite standing, students will take everything they have learned in the Personal Ministry Coach program, Bachelor's program, and Masters' program and apply it into their research practice and dissertation or doctoral capstone in the Doctoral program. Student's will use this information and research to formulate their Doctorate level dissertation or capstone project to complete their PhD.

By adding your doctoral dissertation or doctoral capstone to the already existing ELTU program bridges, the student will have satisfied program requirements for the Doctoral degree. The doctoral dissertation or project capstone is worth 15 program contact hours to be added to the existing Personal Ministry Coach, plus Bachelors' and Masters' degree bridge programs, making the total number of program hours in the bridge to the Doctor of Philosophy in Christ-Centered Leadership, Coaching, and Change to be 256 program hours completed. Students would turn in their doctoral dissertation or doctoral capstone project work at the end of the program for the dissertation to be graded. The Dissertation or Doctoral Capstone project must then be conferred by the Doctoral Dissertation Committee for the credits to be given completing the PhD program. Upon successful completion, a student would have earned 211 program contact hours (Personal Ministry Coach Program) + 20 program contact hours (Bachelor's Degree Bridge) + 10 program contact hours (Master's Degree Bridge) + 15 program contact hours (Doctoral Degree Bridge) = 256 total program contact hours to be awarded all four of the following:

- Personal Ministry Coach;
- Bachelor of Science degree in Christ-Centered Leadership, Coaching, and Change;
- Master of Science degree in Christ-Centered Leadership, Coaching, and Change.
- Doctor of Philosophy degree specializing in Christ-Centered Leadership, Coaching, and Change.

SPIRITUAL INTIMACY & BIRTHING COACH

(SIB 100 SERIES CERTIFICATE - Synchronous Seminar Series)

Overview

The Spiritual Intimacy and Birthing Coach Graduate Certificate seeks to provide students the opportunity to receive coaching services as students walk through their own transformation journey. As students become motivated, inspired, and empowered to start work on a project, goal, or dream that they believe God has given them, the ELTU coach or instructor provides live instruction through a series of curricula, learning materials, seminars in group settings, individual coaching meetings, and homework to support the student's journey. This program is designed to enhance a student's life and/or ministry by encouraging and guiding the student to create and produce that which they have been holding on to for years or to help the student become unstuck. The program totals 126-hours of both synchronous and asynchronous spiritual development and learning that enhances a student's ability to create, produce, and manifest their God-given dreams and visions.

Students who enroll in our Spiritual Intimacy & Birthing Coach program meet once a week in a group setting on Sunday afternoons (typically afternoons with class start time set at or after 3 pm CST via Zoom). The designated clock starting time set for each class may change depending on the class size/enrollment. Working with a live instructor each group will work on their curriculum and project they have brought forth or chosen as birthing projects. No tests or course papers are required. Students of the Spiritual Intimacy & Birthing Coach program receive the ELTU Spiritual Intimacy & Birthing Coach by enhancing their personal, professional, or spiritual journey with a transformation project of their own.

To earn the Spiritual Intimacy & Birthing Coach Graduate Certificate, students must participate in the full 9-month birthing journey, plus the 3-months of aftercare which total a one-year program consisting of (40) weekly live group Empowerment sessions of 2-program hours each, (3) once-a-month group sessions with the instructor of 1-program hour each, and (3) coaching sessions that the student conducts with a person being coached for 1-program hour each. The student will also be completing weekly homework assignments that typically take 1 program hour of the student's private time during the week. Thus, the program totals 126 program hours. Upon successful completion of all sessions and assignments in the Spiritual Intimacy & Birthing Coach seminar series, the student will receive the Spiritual Intimacy & Birthing Coach and become recognized by ELTU as a Spiritual Intimacy and Birthing Coach. It should be noted that participants of the Spiritual Intimacy and Birthing Coach Certificate may enter in through ELTU Alliance transfers and receive prior credit.

Type Awarded: Graduate Certificate

Program Objective/Purpose

- To motivate, inspire, and empower individuals to become more effective and fulfilled through coach-specific training, best-practices, ELT-recognized certificates, and instruction in spiritual intimacy and spiritual birthing principles.

How to Complete this Certificate

Live Core Course Lectures

This seminar series is approximately 1 year as follows: 9-months (36 to 40 weeks) for SIB Curriculum 1 and 2, and then 3 months for SIB Curriculum 3:

- SIB Curriculum 1: consisting of a 2-hour group orientation meeting with the instructor during the first two weeks beginning of the program, then the remaining 16 weeks of immersion into the live lessons with the instructor from the textbooks for 2 hours per week.
- SIB Curriculum 2: consisting of the next 20 weeks with the last two weeks being two 2-hour group close out meetings with the instructor including a public or virtual celebration at the end of the program.
- SIB-Curriculum 3: consisting of one monthly group coach training.

This SIB Coach Certificate is offered when there is a class list of at least 10 attendees interested in enrollment. Instructor feedback is provided weekly.

Independent Study Homework Assignments

The above Core Courses require weekly homework assignments which take about one program hour each during the 9-month curriculum evaluated by the instructor.

Lab

In addition, the student will setup, record, and complete at least (3) one-on-one coaching sessions with a person being coached. Each coaching lab is worth one program clock hour each. Including any prep work, each coaching session may last up to 60 minutes. The sessions may take place online or offline at working with the person being coached. The student, not the school, is responsible for acquiring, setting up, recording, and completing the coaching session with his/her client or person being coached.

ELTU Discussion Forum Online

ELTU Instructors offer either a Live Group ELTU Discussion Forum or a Posted ELTU Discussion Forum. Whether live or posted, the ELTU Discussion Forum is the place to participate with others who may be enrolled at ELTU currently or have been enrolled previously and have posted their comments in reply to any of the Instructor's Questions covered in the Course Curriculum / Syllabus. These questions are typically regarding personal, professional, or spiritual transformation, leadership, coaching, change, or any aspect of the given course or program. Where you see an icon labelled "ELTU Discussion Forum" or content labelled as such in your Class syllabus, your participation in the ELTU Discussion Forum is required and will be graded to successfully complete the program. If a student has not attended either the Live Group ELTU Discussion Forum Online (or Posted ELTU Discussion Forum Online) to perform and complete the required weekly check-ins, the Instructor may recommend to the School Director that the student be withdrawn from the program (see policy on Satisfactory Progress and Academic Probation).

Life after the year 2020 changed for all of us. It can be tough to put the former things behind us and press on to the abundant life God promised in Christ Jesus. If we rely on what worked out well in the past with our previous relationships, previous finances, previous health and wellness gains, or previous socio-economic status, it is likely that one or all of those changed for you or those you know after March 2020. How do we move forward? Using the strong biblical teaching of author, Dr. David Jeremiah, this course teaches us what it means to press on toward the goal to win the prize for which God has called us in Christ Jesus.

Required Textbook: Forward: Discovering God's Presence and Power in Your Tomorrow by Dr. David Jeremiah (2021) ISBN-13: 978-0785224044, 240 pages, Publisher: Thomas Nelson

Learning Objectives

Through reading and applying the principles shared in the course materials, you will:

- Hear recent stories and see biblical examples of what it means to live Philippians 3:12-14.
- Examine in your own life how to move forward from challenges today and tomorrow.
- Learn how God wants to expand your dream, remove fear, and give you divine direction.
- Receive God's seed planted within you to fulfill a life of purpose even now.

What pleases God to allow us to be born into such a time, season, and culture as we see today? Surely our Father is hoping that we engage in life with others, and how do we do that to be like Christ was in his culture? Amazingly, this course shows us how! Social and political life in our culture has fixed attention onto topics, like: poverty, sex, marriage and family issues, economic and racial disparity – topics that we don't typically hear talked about in church. What solution(s) does the living church, the body of Christ, and YOU have to offer, define and direct divine attention and guidance to in these situations? How do we live and thrive in such counter-culture where Jesus is concerned? Moreover, who are we being in making a difference?

Required Textbook: Counter Culture - Bible Study Book by David Platt (Author) (2015) ISBN-13: 978-1430038603; 176 pages, Publisher: Lifeway Press

Learning Objectives

Through reading and applying the principles shared in the course materials, you will:

- Examine the Gospel across 10 elements of American culture.
- Reflect on where you stand in comparison to Christ's truths on each element.
- Establish a baseline or response for you and your household's perspective on each issue.
- Incorporate and integrate your biblical worldview into how you love and show love.

Whether you are leading a team of athletes, your kids and family, friends/peers, or employees, you are being a coach. As a Christian, it is your calling to help people you encounter and those who encounter you – experience the best version of yourself that you have to offer. As such, a genuine coach works through love, not duty or obligation, and always carries an encouraging word. I Peter 3:15 says, “But in your hearts revere Christ as Lord. Always be prepared to give an answer to everyone who asks you to give the reason for the hope that you have. But do this with gentleness and respect.” In this course, you will cite encouraging quotes from some of the world’s greatest athletes and their coaches. You will identify if the quote is biblical or not and support your answer with Scripture. Compare the encouragement and wisdom you have found in Christ with that of some of the world's greatest coaches and athletes quoted in the textbook. This course will serve as a daily check-in as you learn to encourage yourself with great humility while reflecting on the wisdom of God with that of the world’s greatest coaches and athletes.

Required Textbook: Coach: 365 Days of Inspiration for Coaches and Players by Matthew Kelly (2020) ISBN-13: 978-1635821499; 400 pages, Publisher: Blue Sparrow;

Christ-Centered coaches lead with little downtime in the world today. Our lives and those of our families, co-workers, neighbors in communities and businesses are filled with days of ongoing complex situations and change. We are faced with many ups and downs at the same time. Life-threatening health challenges, economic challenges, social and relationship challenges are going on all around us, with love and opportunity being presented at the same time while hate and injustice is closely standing by. Being constantly barraged by the overwhelming speed of technological advances in society impacting the way we live, and media providers competing for our attention, learning to live intentionally and on purpose to fulfill one's central calling, dreams, goals, everyday visions, and responsibilities is a must and is the basis for this course. Principles of leadership for self and others is a necessity to not only survive together during the challenges we face, but also thrive together in the world today.

Required Textbook: Small Acts of Leadership: 12 Intentional Behaviors That Lead to Big Impact By G. Shawn Hunter, Narrated by: Tim Andres Pabon; ISBN-13: 978-1629561363, 240 pages or AudioBook; (2016) Publisher: Routledge

Learning Objectives

Through reading and applying the principles shared in the course materials, you will:

- Learn to recognize daily opportunities to be an impactful productive leader.
- Identify 12 core needed competencies of all leaders that make a difference.

Great Christ-Centered coaches must learn how to interact in difficult situations with all kinds of personalities. Control-freaks, narcissists, slackers, cynics, divas, drama queens... are all people with lives worthy of living, loving, and learning how to live better. In Matthew 10:16, Jesus tells his disciples to be as shrewd as the serpent, but gentle as the dove. This course teaches you how to handle dreaded situations with a straight-forward process that is as Jesus taught - gentle yet wise. Using a practical textbook authored by a professional in the technology industry, where personality issues routinely cause havoc in multi-million-dollar projects, this course reveals a core truth about people: most do not want to cause problems, but rather prefer to do better and want to experience greater results. Christ-Centered coaches help people realize their potential for change. This course helps people identify where change might be needed when dealing with others and how to navigate that change.

Required Textbook: Leading the Unleashable How to Manage Mavericks, Cynics, Divas, and Other Difficult People By: Alan Willett Narrated by: Tom Parks (2016) ISBN-13 978-0814437605, 240 pages, Publisher: Amacom

Learning Objectives

Through reading and applying the principles shared in the course materials, you will:

- Discover ways to master the mindset needed to successfully handle difficult situations.
- Articulate problems calmly and succinctly rather than raise additional tensions.
- Help influence commitment to change and follow-up for success.
- Learn how to coach others in difficult situations and create self-awareness of their potential.

Home is where the heart is, and the heart is where the issues of life take shape and flow outward to touch and impact others, even to the uttermost parts of the earth. In this course, the student will be challenged to examine home first, and come closer to God. As a most powerful place, Jesus said in Acts 1:8, “But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.” Jerusalem was home, and it is named first. Before we impact nations and the world, Christ-Centered coaches must first experience transformation and godly encounters at home.

Required Textbook: Experiencing God at Home Richard Blackaby (Author), Tom Blackaby (2013) ISBN-13: 978-1433679827; 256 pages Publisher: B&H Books

Learning Objectives

Through reading and applying the principles shared in the course materials, you will:

- Learn ways to intentionally establish godly marriage and family values at home.
- Instill purpose and direction into your home life.
- Establish godly reconciliation as a way of family daily living.
- Practice being a model of love in the gospel of home including family and significant others.

Jesus came that we might have life, and that more abundantly, he says in John 10:10. Through God's Word, we learn that God wants our joy to be complete (2 John 1:12) and that the result of our faith is overwhelming joy (1 Peter 1:8-9). Why then does it seem that Christians are generally not filled with joy unspeakable as a part of their daily lives? Not that we are exempt from trials or sorrows, but that we are able to enjoy internal peace and joy on a consistent basis. Now that Jesus has ascended to heaven, is this possible in our world today? This course explains with a resounding, "Yes!" and instructs on how to explore happiness here and now when we remove any myths, lies, barriers, false promises, and traps we have come to believe from the modern culture in which we live.

Required Textbook: The Biggest Lie in the History of Christianity: How Modern Culture Is Robbing Billions of People of Happiness by Matthew Kelly (2018) ISBN-13: 978-1635820409; 128 pages or Audiobook, Publisher: Blue Sparrow

Learning Objectives

Through reading and applying the principles shared in the course materials, you will:

- Identify where modern culture is constantly leading people to believe lies.
- Identify any lies that we have told ourselves.
- Examine effects of myths, lies, barriers, false promises and traps we have come to believe.
- Discover the reality and richness of our vibrant faith through the living God that speaks.
- Articulate whether you agree or disagree with the textbook.

Coaching, mentoring, and discipling are all essential skills for Christian leaders. But for most busy, overworked believers, coaching others is done badly, or not at all. We're just too busy, and it's too hard for people who are used to doing church the same way to change. But what if your pastor, church leader, ministry lead, or you could coach people anywhere to have an impact in 10 minutes or less? In this course, you will learn how coaching can be a normal regular way to live and enjoy your life, teaching others how to do the same. Working in a secular society or in the church, you can live having an impact when you learn how to make coaching others a regular part of your day.

Required Textbook: The Coaching Habit Say Less, Ask More & Change the Way You Lead Forever by Michael Bungay Stanier, Narrated by: Daniel Maté (2016) ISBN-13: 978-0978440749; 244 pages or Audiobook, Publisher: Page Two

Learning Objectives

Through reading and applying the principles shared in the course materials, you will:

- Draw from skills professionals use every day in coaching and leading successfully.
- Learn insights to unlock potential you see in other people and yourself.
- Get (7) essential questions you can use to coach others anywhere in or out of the church.
- Understand the importance of saying less and asking more questions to help others.

Method:	Asynchronous Distance Learning	Schedule: Est 11 weeks or less
----------------	---------------------------------------	---------------------------------------

Complete Synopsis	Prerequisites: None
--------------------------	----------------------------

Negative self-talk is not something that only affects others. It affects all of us. As Christ-Centered individuals, we must be able to weed out false narratives that we hear and play over and over in our heads about ourselves, others, God, and life in general. Negative self-talk is not only unhealthy, but it can be disastrous. But not so for those who live in the sound of truth and life. In this course, you will learn to take back control of your soul. The soul is your mind, will, emotions, intellect, decision-making, inspiration, and everything that makes you choose the way you want to be. When something negative is outside of your control, identifying the limiting and toxic beliefs in your soul concerning it will cause you to step up and confront any toxicity: exposing, revealing, and removing the toxic belief by the promise and power of God's unfailing love and wisdom.

Required Textbook: Get Out of Your Head: Stopping the Spiral of Toxic Thoughts Book by Jennie Allen (2020) 256 pages, ISBN-13: 978-1601429643 or Audiobook, Publisher: Waterbrook

Learning Objectives

Through reading and applying the principles shared in the course materials, you will:

- Identify what God instructs you to do specifically to take hold of your own freedom.
- Identify tools that God has equipped us with to help remove limiting beliefs.
- Practice pulling down toxic thoughts and expose the root of where they come from.
- Choose at least one step you will take every time a toxic thought or limiting belief crops up.

Summarizing the Servant Leader by best-selling author, Ken Blanchard, students will receive guidance for how to become a successful modern-day servant leader modeled after Jesus Christ. Students will identify their leadership style: whether they are established leaders, up-and-coming leaders, or somewhere in-between. Students will be invited to use the methods, examples, tools and information offered in this course as best practices upon which to establish their postgraduate plans and objectives in becoming more effective servant leaders in the Body of Christ.

Required Textbook: Servant Leader Hardcover or Kindle – Illustrated, March 11, 2003 by Ken Blanchard; 128 pages; ISBN-13: 978-0849996597; Publisher: Thomas Nelson

Learning Objectives

Through reading and applying the principles shared in the course materials, you will:

- Identify your leadership assumptions and methods summarized in the textbook.
- Address how you have applied these assumptions in your leadership behavior.
- Explain what the author says about using the heart to overcome selfish motives and barriers.
- Summarize the habits of leaders and what makes servant leaders effective.

How does a pandemic start from a single person? How does a juvenile grow up to decide to become a part of the solution to the world's problems instead of part of the problem? How does one thing happen that starts off a series of other things that change our world for the better or worse? When you look to the past there have been many society altering events, and at the height of each moment, there has been a single tipping point. The world is full of people who have sparked flames for the future. COACHING TO TEACH YOURSELF challenges us to make an impact today to pave the road to a better tomorrow, combining textbook reading lectures, coaching labs, and online ELTU Discussion Forums to give the beginning student a basic knowledge of how to better empower himself, construct or figure out his best options, and how to better hold one accountable.

Since year 2019, the case for coaching in business and personal life have led to the emergence of a market worth $7.5 billion in the United States alone and over $15 billion worldwide. Clearly, the coaching discipline and language is an element to be studied, learned, and replicated. It follows then that appropriately balancing Christ-Centered living as a distinct type and level of education for coaching is a path just waiting to be explored. In this course, the language and discipline of learning to coach is the goal for the Christ-Centered leader.

Required Textbook: The Language of Life and Business Coaching: Advanced Coaching Skills That Will Help Your Clients Flourish Paperback by Chad Hall (2018); ISBN-13: 978-1719913461; 70 pages, Publisher: Independently Published

At what point does a Christ-Centered leader move from being a beginner coach to one who impacts life transformation? Surprisingly, the secret to inviting impactful change in a coaching session is focusing on the person, not the problem being presented by the person being coached. In this course, students will explore three levels of coaching as described by the textbook author: beginner, better and transformational. For each level, you will look for where the coach focuses, the types of question you would ask and what kind of results you might expect at each level.

Required Textbook: Coach the Person Not the Problem: A Simple Guide to Coaching for Transformation by Chad Hall (2016); Kindle Edition, 20 pages, Publisher: Coach Approach Ministries

Learning Objectives

Through reading and applying the principles shared in the course materials, you will:

- Identify example elements that describe beginner level Christ-Centered coaching.
- Identify example elements that describe better level Christ-Centered coaching.
- Identify example elements that describe transformational level Christ-Centered coaching.
- Describe what creativity and emotional expressions should look like in a session, and how to know when they are effective in our coaching relationships.

Doctorate Degree in Christ-Centered Leadership, Coaching, and Change Course

Course #: PHD-540 Hours: 10 Lec/ 2 Lab/ 0 Ext/ 12 Total

Subject Title: BUILDING BLUEPRINTS FOR COACHING IN MINISTRIES

Method: Asynchronous Distance Learning Schedule: Est 11 weeks or less

Complete Synopsis Prerequisites: None

Nearly overnight the world's churches have had to shift in sharing the Gospel and spreading God's love through their ministries. For most pastors and leaders, the post-Covid 19 era has meant questions about how to train the next generation of leaders and how to continue to carry out our calling. In this course, students will take cues from church consultants to observe if and how their advice for building leaders is applicable or helpful today? What would a set of blueprints look like to positively affect the kingdom call the church has regardless of the pandemic?

Required Textbook: Building Leaders: Blueprints for Developing Leadership at Every Level of Your Church by Aubrey Malphurs (2004); ISBN-13: 978-0801091711, 288 pages, Publisher: Baker Books

Learning Objectives

Through reading and applying the principles shared in the course materials, you will:

- Identify where coaching versus other support disciplines should or should not be an avenue for development of ministry potential.
- Identify where empowerment is used and whether it is within a coaching context or purely instruction.
- Describe a coach-centric model for believers and its usefulness.
- Identify how a coach-centric approach helps a ministry align itself with its mission.

Subject Title: COACHING COMMUNITIES TO GOD’S WORD

Method: Asynchronous Distance Learning Schedule: Est 11 weeks or less

Complete Synopsis Prerequisites: None

Contrary to how leaders may have led previously by giving advice and delivering instruction, in this course, students will learn twelve essential coaching skills to enhance their ability to have transformational conversations with others. The goal is for believers to learn how to speak less and listen more deeply, seek God for Spirit-led questions to ask others, and help the Body of Christ continue to move towards God’s agenda and motives.

Required Textbook: Spiritual Leadership Coaching: Connecting People to God's Heart and Purposes by Richard Blackaby and Bob Royall (2018); ISBN-13: 978-0692939000; 304 pages, Publisher: Blackaby Ministries

Learning Objectives

Through reading and applying the principles shared in the course materials, you will:

- Learn to listen to the heart of God when alone and engaging with others.
- Formulate deeper levels of engagement in coaching conversations.
- Explore how to ensure that the coaching conversation is spirit-led and not coach-directed.
- Become sensitive to God’s agenda and comfortable being a vulnerable space for others.
- Ask questions on multiple levels that help a person ponder God’s leading voice.

Subject Title: COACHING TO BUILD GOD'S CHURCH

Method:	Asynchronous Distance Learning	Schedule: Est 11 weeks or less
----------------	---------------------------------------	---------------------------------------

--------------------------	----------------------------

Infused with the Word of God, the love of Christ can be shared and expanded through transformational coaching. In this course, you will see and hear the proof of this concept from three coaches who share their history, dreams, principles, and what God is doing through the coaching relationships they share with other pastors. The goal of the course is to demonstrate what is possible in your own life and Christ-Centered coaching practice or ministry when you coach to build God's church.

Required Textbook: You can coach: How to help leaders build healthy churches through coaching by Joel Comiskey (2011); ISBN-13 : 978-0984311040; 156 pages, Publisher: CCS Publishers

Learning Objectives

Through reading and applying the principles shared in the course materials, you will:

- Examine the stories of other Christ-Centered leaders who employ coaching techniques.
- Demonstrate coaching in action in the lives of others and their ministries.
- Be offered inspiration and empowerment to explore coaching as a lifestyle of love, leadership, and learning in the Body of Christ.

Subject Title: DOCTORAL DISSERTATION / DOCTORAL CAPSTONE PROJECT - CLC

Method:	Independent Research Dissertation	Schedule: Self-paced up to 24 weeks
----------------	--	--

--------------------------	----------------------------

Your dissertation or doctoral capstone is intended to extend or apply research to deliver a solution immediately to an issue within a real-world setting. Dissertations and capstone projects should be no less than 40 pages and no more than 100 pages in length and must include a bibliography with at least 20 references. In your paper, first introduce your theme or abstract and then expound on your research in detail on the theme using common English language. Endnotes and research notes should be noted numerically after each statement with the source cited at the end of the paper. It is suggested that the dissertation/capstone paper be written in APA style format and the resource below is a great resource. Students who choose the Doctoral Bridge in their Student Enrollment Agreement may present their own writing project as a doctoral capstone in the resulting form of a published book, devotional, ministry resource, or training tool.

Required Textbook: Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, (Chicago Style for Students and Researchers) 9th Edition by Kate L. Turabian

Learning Objectives

Through extensive writing, research, or use of the suggested course materials, you will:

- Identify your doctoral capstone topic or doctoral dissertation topic and submit the proposed title of dissertation or doctoral capstone project within the first 90-days in the program.
- Prepare a schedule and outline for your workplan or research work on the dissertation or project.
- Prepare a 40-to-100-page paper based on the idea of your dissertation or capstone.
- Use APA format or book format in suggested guidelines for dissertations or doctoral capstone.
- Submit the final dissertation/project within due dates specified in Class Syllabus.

Method:	Asynchronous Distance Learning	Schedule: Est 11 weeks or less
----------------	---------------------------------------	---------------------------------------

--------------------------	----------------------------

Many leaders have taught their congregations how to have church and have spent less time teaching the people how to be the church – a living body and temple for God to dwell in. What is the role of the church today? How does this role extend beyond the four walls of a building? We live the majority of our lives outside of a church building and yet, most believers have no clue how to bring the supernatural power of God into their time outside of a church building. What's wrong with this picture? This course combines articles lectures, coaching labs, and online ELTU Discussion Forums to give the doctoral student an opportunity to advance his/her practice and mindset to shift from thinking of the church as a physical building to seeing the church as a living body. Thus a container for God's glory to impact world systems, particularly, business systems.

Required Media: 9 Ways Your Church Can Engage Business Professionals. Posted on June 21, 2017 (<https://hbu.edu/center-for-christianity-in-business/2017/06/21/9-ways-church-can-engage-business-professionals/>) By: Darren Shearer

Learning Objectives

Through reading and applying the principles shared in the course materials, you will:

- Identify and describe 9 ways you or your church can engage business professionals more effectively.
- Identify and describe the strategy problem that occurs if every believer tries to leave his job or the business marketplace and enter full-time ministry or business for himself.
- Identify and name biblical examples of how God himself handles trained professionals in His Kingdom.
- Identify the result when God engages people in their business calling and give financial examples.
- Identify your Spiritual gift in business by taking the Assessment here: http://www.theologyofbusiness.com/wp-content/uploads/2016/11/Your-Spiritual-Gifts-in-the-Marketplace_Assessment.pdf

Subject Title: GAME CHANGER LEADERSHIP

Method:	Asynchronous Distance Learning	Schedule: Est 11 weeks or less
----------------	---------------------------------------	---------------------------------------

--------------------------	----------------------------

God specializes in taking failure and turning it into fulfillment of God-inspired dreams, visions, and aspirations that flourish over time into success! He's a game-changer! Today, I want to talk to those: Executives in training about to give up; Aspiring Employees who are distraught, oppressed, tired, burnt out, and stressed; Anyone who is in an uncomfortable place right now, AND those who are none of the above, but you are the average well-adjusted citizen who is not content or satisfied with waking up going about out your day-to-day; you who are unfulfilled!

GAME CHANGER LEADERSHIP combines media lecture, coaching labs, and online ELTU Discussion Forums to give the doctoral student a fully engaged view of what we love to do as human capital leaders, what we are called to do, and how to see the rewards of your work when possible. Game Changing Leadership is a word of Motivation. It is not just motivation; it is also a word of Application. But, it's not just application; it's also a word of Salvation. But, it's not just Salvation; it's also a word of Transformation. But, it's not just Transformation; it's also a word of Endurance. Not just Endurance, it is also a word of Restoration and Renewal. In other words, if you apply what you learn in this course, you can literally turn your world upside down, and take your life anywhere you want it to go. You become a GAME-CHANGER!!!

Required Media: Bible Gateway Journal written in Nov 2018. Published by Dr. Merle Ray

There are observable skills and abilities associated with coaching that make it distinctive and different from vocations outside of ministry such as: consulting, counseling, psychological or clinical therapy, and other support vocations and disciplines. The combination of these observable coaching skills and abilities have been adapted in the form of core competencies that demonstrate and support ministry objectives and the International Coach Federation (ICF) definition for coaching. Setting the foundation for effective competent coaching requires commitment to and consistent use of ethical and professional coaching standards. Based upon ICF public documents, the D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. CORE COMPETENCIES FOR COACHING curriculum provide guidelines, suggestions, and opportunities for coach practitioners, mentors, supervisors, trainers, and students in their coaching work and practices to apply competent application of the ICF Core Competency – EMBODIES A COACHING MINDSET. ICF is a global independent non-profit credentialing body and organization (considered the Gold Standard for coaching) throughout the world. These core competencies, when studied, practiced, and applied consistently allow a coach or aspiring coach to demonstrate a foundational understanding of the body of knowledge that includes the ICF Definition of Coaching, Core Competencies, Coach Knowledge Assessment, and Code of Ethics and Standards. A minimum of 16 class hours is spent in coach-specific training and practice on this essential core competency.

Required Textbook: DIAMONDS Core Competencies for Coaching: Coach-specific Training for Professional Coaches and Aspiring Coaches by Dr Merle Evelyn Ray (Author) (2017), ISBN 978-1720921318

Learning Objectives

- Describe the definition of Coaching, including the ICF definitions of coaching.
- Identify and describe the difference between coaching versus consulting, counseling, therapy or other support disciplines.

- Identify and describe elements of ethical conduct and standards that are taught from an ICF Core Competencies perspective.
- Identify and describe integrating ICF core competencies effectively in your coaching work.

Complete Synopsis	Prerequisites: None
--------------------------	----------------------------

Since the rapid growth of the coaching profession the International Coaching Federation (ICF) introduced the newest version of core competencies in 2019. One of the newest core competencies, a key aspect of setting an effective foundation for coaching is embodying a coaching mindset. Experienced Transformation Coach, Mukul Dhawan in his article states, “As more people make coaching their full-time career, investing in yourself as a coach is even more important now.” ELTU agrees and supports coaches on their journeys to learn more about how to integrate this new competency into coaching practices to foster and support success for coaches and growth for clients. This course combines article lectures, coaching labs, and online ELTU Discussion Forums to give the coach knowledge of how to enhance their skills in order to coach others successfully and take care of themselves in the process. EMBODIES A COACHING MINDSET focuses on being yourself and doing yourself as a coach, providing guidance on how to be the best you while also being the best coach both for yourself and the client.

Subject Title:	ESTABLISHES AND MAINTAINS AGREEMENTS
-----------------------	---

Method:	Live Instructor-Led Online	Schedule: SAT/SUN 8 AM – 5:30 PM
----------------	-----------------------------------	---

--------------------------	----------------------------

In addition to ethical guidelines and professional standards, a key aspect of setting an effective foundation for coaching is ESTABLISHES AND MAINTAINS AGREEMENTS. This specific dynamic coaching interaction begins well before an actual signing of documents to begin coaching, and it continues throughout the coaching relationship. Coaches and aspiring coaches who take the time to cultivate the relationship and conversation to discuss and establish pertinent parameters ahead of the actual coaching and continue to visit and re-visit expectation elements throughout the coaching relationship help clients and themselves to build objectivity and clarity into the scope of the engagement, and to minimize potential for misunderstandings and mal-aligned expectations. Based upon ICF public documents, the D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. CORE COMPETENCIES FOR COACHING curriculum provide guidelines, suggestions, and opportunities for coach practitioners, mentors, supervisors, trainers, and students in their coaching work and practices to apply competent application of the ICF Core Competency – ESTABLISHES AND MAINTAINS AGREEMENTS. A minimum of 16 class hours is spent in coach-specific training and practice on this essential core competency.

Subject Title: LISTENS ACTIVELY

Method:	Live Instructor-Led Online	Schedule: SAT/SUN 8 AM – 5:30 PM
----------------	-----------------------------------	---

--------------------------	----------------------------

Effective competent coaches have the ability to focus completely on what the client is saying and is not saying, to understand the meaning of what is said in the context of the client's desires, and to support client self-expression. Coaches who master the practice of LISTENS ACTIVELY to clients are more likely to see the client be able to freely fully express and communicate his/her thoughts, plans, and needs as they relate to the desired coaching relationship, and see the client accomplish his/her desired results. Based upon ICF public documents, the D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. CORE COMPETENCIES FOR COACHING curriculum provide guidelines, suggestions, and opportunities for coach practitioners, mentors, supervisors, trainers, and students in their coaching work and practices to apply competent application of the ICF Core Competency – LISTENS ACTIVELY. Required Textbook: DIAMONDS Core Competencies for Coaching: Coach-specific Training for Professional Coaches and Aspiring Coaches by Dr Merle Evelyn Ray (Author) (2017), ISBN 978-1720921318

Learning Objectives

- Identify and describe attending to the client and the client's agenda – not to the coach's agenda for the client.
- Identify and describe hearing the client's concerns, goals, values and beliefs about what is and is not possible.
- Identify and describe distinguishing between the words, the tone of voice, and the body language of the client.
- Identify and describe summarizing, paraphrasing, reiterating, and mirroring back what the client has said to ensure clarity and understanding.
- Identify and describe encouraging, accepting, exploring and reinforcing the client's expression of feelings, perceptions, concerns, beliefs, suggestions, in order to have clear and effective communication.
- Identify and describe integrating and building on client's ideas and suggestions.

COURSE CATALOG FOR SEMINAR CERTIFICATES

Subject Title: EVOKES AWARENESS

Method:	Live Instructor-Led Online	Schedule:	SAT/SUN 8 AM – 5:30 PM
----------------	-----------------------------------	------------------	-------------------------------

--------------------------	----------------------------

Based upon ICF public documents, the D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. CORE COMPETENCIES FOR COACHING curriculum provide guidelines, suggestions, and opportunities for coach practitioners, mentors, supervisors, trainers, and students in their coaching work and practices to apply competent application of the ICF Core Competency – EVOKES AWARENESS. A minimum of 16 class hours is spent in coach-specific training and practice on this essential core competency. Effective competent coaches master the ability to ask questions that reveal information needed for maximum benefit to the coaching relationship along with the use of direct communication. EVOKES AWARENESS enables coaches to use their coaching skills wisely in assisting the client to freely fully express and communicate his/her thoughts, plans, desires, and needs as they relate to the desired client's coaching goals. The objective is to see the client accomplish his/her desired results through his/her own self-driven choices, not the coach's choices for the client. EVOKES AWARENESS also enables coaches to become naturally prone to dancing in the moment by using direct communication to create awareness and not relying upon a coach's own assumptions in their coaching work and practice to a client's given situation.

Required Textbook: DIAMONDS Core Competencies for Coaching: Coach-specific Training for Professional Coaches and Aspiring Coaches by Dr Merle Evelyn Ray (Author) (2017), ISBN 978-1720921318

Learning Objectives

- Identify and describe the International Coach Federation (ICF) Core Competency – EVOKES AWARENESS.
- Identify and describe active listening and its impact on the co-partnering perspective.
- Identify and describe how direct communication and asking questions evoke discovery, insight, commitment or action (e.g., those that challenge the client's assumptions).
- Identify and describe how a coach uses open-ended questions that create greater clarity, possibility or new learning.
- Identify and describe how powerful questioning and direct communication move the client forward toward what the client desires, not asking that the client justify or look backward.
- Identify and describe being clear, articulate and direct in sharing and providing feedback.
- Identify and describe reframing and articulating to help the client understand from another perspective what he/she wants or is uncertain about.

- Identify and describe clearly stating coaching objectives, meeting agenda, and purpose of techniques or exercises.
- Identify and describe how using language appropriate and respectful to the client at all times establishes the foundation to ensure the client has the best possible opportunity to reach his/her goals.
- Identify and describe the importance of using metaphors and analogies to help to illustrate a point or paint a verbal picture.
- Identify and describe the use of silence, voice tones, as well as non-verbal communication to help support the client's self-discovery.

D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. are self-discovered jewels found by clients working in partnership with the coach who is fully present in the moment. In D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. Coach-Specific Training coaches learn how to help their clients elevate their brilliance through mastery of coaching fundamentals. The term, D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. stands for “dynamically integrated actions mined on the needs, dimensions, and specifics” of the client to signify that competent confident coaching is like mining for precious stones. In D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. we have embraced the International Coach Federation’s (ICF) 2021 updated core competencies and professional standards, as well as ICF’s code of ethics, definition of coaching, and critical foundations that serve as central components of our learning and mastery. In addition to lectures, students will start setting their time for coaching labs, mentor coach supervision, and coach performance evaluations. Using the International Coach Federation (ICF) foundations, this course outlines and describes for coach practitioners and students the DIAMONDS approach available to them in their coaching work to apply competent application of a guided system of coaching practices that aid in supporting the client’s objective for coaching.

Subject Title: COACHING GLOBAL IMPACT & PERSPECTIVE

Method: Live Instructor-Led Online Schedule: SAT/SUN 8 AM – 5:30 PM

Complete Synopsis Prerequisites: None

In COACHING GLOBAL IMPACT & PERSPECTIVE, students are learning the universal view and perspectives of coaching: what is coaching, what coaching is not, and the differences between coaching and other support disciplines. This course provides a powerful learning platform for coaching that enables professional coaches and students of coaching to help their clients to grow and develop both personally and professionally by covering the worldwide common definitions and understanding of coaching from the global perspective based on exploration of the International Coach Federation's foundations and systems of guided principles in coaching. Using the International Coach Federation (ICF) website, this course introduces and describes for coach practitioners, mentor coaches, supervisors, coach trainers, and students the ICF definitions and core competencies for coaching, types of coaching, and the various support disciplines that are distinguished separate and apart from coaching to identify what coaching is and what coaching is not. A minimum of 18 class hours is spent in coach-specific training and practice.

--------------------------	----------------------------

Just as diamonds are formed through a combination of tremendous pressure and temperatures miles beneath the earth's surface and have to be mined by individuals seeking to uncover their brilliance, effective competent coaching allows a client to self-discover himself or herself beneath the surface, and covenant with self and coach to pursue and achieve a desired level of success. In this course, the student views the model of the "DIAMONDS" approach and how it helps the client to discover his/her meaningful indicators that provide deeper meaning and direction for the client who wishes to move from where they are today to where they want to be. By using the International Coach Federation (ICF) foundations, this course outlines and re-emphasizes how the DIAMONDS principles support the ICF guiding systems of coaching, the benefits of coaching for both the client and the coach, core values of coaching, and an illustrative model in action which is available to students in their coaching work to apply competent application of a guided system of coaching practices that aid in supporting the client's objective for coaching.

There are observable skills and abilities associated with coaching that make it distinctive and different from vocations outside of ministry such as: consulting, counseling, psychological or clinical therapy, and other support vocations and disciplines. The combination of these observable coaching skills and abilities have been adapted in the form of core competencies that demonstrate and support ministry objectives and the International Coach Federation (ICF) definition for coaching. Setting the foundation for effective competent coaching requires commitment to and consistent use of ethical and professional coaching standards. Based upon ICF public documents, the D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. CORE COMPETENCIES FOR COACHING curriculum provide guidelines, suggestions, and opportunities for coach practitioners, mentors, supervisors, trainers, and students in their coaching work and practices to apply competent application of the ICF Core Competency – EMBODIES A COACHING MINDSET. ICF is a global independent non-profit credentialing body and organization (considered the Gold Standard for coaching) throughout the world. These core competencies, when studied, practiced, and applied consistently allow a coach or aspiring coach to demonstrate a foundational understanding of the body of knowledge that includes the ICF Definition of Coaching, Core Competencies, Coach Knowledge Assessment, and Code of Ethics and Standards. A minimum of 16 class hours is spent in coach-specific training and practice on this essential core competency.

Since the rapid growth of the coaching profession the International Coaching Federation (ICF) introduced the newest version of core competencies in 2019. One of the newest core competencies, a key aspect of setting an effective foundation for coaching is embodying a coaching mindset. Experienced Transformation Coach, Mukul Dhawan in his article states, “As more people make coaching their full-time career, investing in yourself as a coach is even more important now.” ELTU agrees and supports coaches on their journeys to learn more about how to integrate this new competency into coaching practices to foster and support success for coaches and growth for clients. This course combines article lectures, coaching labs, and online ELTU Discussion Forums to give the coach knowledge of how to enhance their skills to coach others successfully and to be the best version of themselves in the process.

Method:	Asynchronous/Self-study	Schedule: 16-hours (Lessons 17-24)

--------------------------	----------------------------

In addition to ethical guidelines and professional standards, a key aspect of setting an effective foundation for coaching is ESTABLISHES AND MAINTAINS AGREEMENTS. This specific dynamic coaching interaction begins well before an actual signing of documents to begin coaching, and it continues throughout the coaching relationship. Coaches and aspiring coaches who take the time to cultivate the relationship and conversation to discuss and establish pertinent parameters ahead of the actual coaching and continue to visit and re-visit expectation elements throughout the coaching relationship help clients and themselves to build objectivity and clarity into the scope of the engagement, and to minimize potential for misunderstandings and mal-aligned expectations. Based upon ICF public documents, the D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. CORE COMPETENCIES FOR COACHING curriculum provide guidelines, suggestions, and opportunities for coach practitioners, mentors, supervisors, trainers, and students in their coaching work and practices to apply competent application of the ICF Core Competency – ESTABLISHES AND MAINTAINS AGREEMENTS. Subject Title: LISTENS ACTIVELY

Method:	Asynchronous/Self-study	Schedule: 16-hours (Lessons 41-48)

--------------------------	----------------------------

Effective competent coaches have the ability to focus completely on what the client is saying and is not saying, to understand the meaning of what is said in the context of the client's desires, and to support client self-expression. Coaches who master the practice of LISTENS ACTIVELY to clients are more likely to see the client be able to freely fully express and communicate his/her thoughts, plans, and needs as they relate to the desired coaching relationship, and see the client accomplish his/her desired results. Based upon ICF public documents, the D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. CORE COMPETENCIES FOR COACHING curriculum provide guidelines, suggestions, and opportunities for coach practitioners, mentors, supervisors, trainers, and students in their coaching work and practices to apply competent application of the ICF Core Competency – LISTENS ACTIVELY. Required Textbook: DIAMONDS Core Competencies for Coaching: Coach-specific Training for Professional Coaches and Aspiring Coaches by Dr Merle Evelyn Ray (Author) (2017), ISBN 978-1720921318

Learning Objectives

- Identify and describe attending to the client and the client's agenda – not to the coach's agenda for the client.
- Identify and describe hearing the client's concerns, goals, values and beliefs about what is and is not possible.
- Identify and describe distinguishing between the words, the tone of voice, and the body language of the client.
- Identify and describe summarizing, paraphrasing, reiterating, and mirroring back what the client has said to ensure clarity and understanding.
- Identify and describe encouraging, accepting, exploring and reinforcing the client's expression of feelings, perceptions, concerns, beliefs, suggestions, in order to have clear and effective communication.
- Identify and describe integrating and building on client's ideas and suggestions.

- Identify and describe assisting the client in getting to the “bottom-line,” understanding the essence of the client’s communication.
- Identify and describe allowing the client to vent or “clear” the situation without judgment or attachment to move on to next steps.

Subject Title: EVOKES AWARENESS

Method:	Asynchronous/Self-study	Schedule: 16-hours (Lessons 49-72)
----------------	--------------------------------	---

--------------------------	----------------------------

Based upon ICF public documents, the D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. CORE COMPETENCIES FOR COACHING curriculum provide guidelines, suggestions, and opportunities for coach practitioners, mentors, supervisors, trainers, and students in their coaching work and practices to apply competent application of the ICF Core Competency – EVOKES AWARENESS. A minimum of 16 class hours is spent in coach-specific training and practice on this essential core competency. Effective competent coaches master the ability to ask questions that reveal information needed for maximum benefit to the coaching relationship along with the use of direct communication. EVOKES AWARENESS enables coaches to use their coaching skills wisely in assisting the client to freely fully express and communicate his/her thoughts, plans, desires, and needs as they relate to the desired client's coaching goals. The objective is to see the client accomplish his/her desired results through his/her own self-driven choices, not the coach's choices for the client. EVOKES AWARENESS also enables coaches to become naturally prone to dancing in the moment by using direct communication to create awareness and not relying upon a coach's own assumptions in their coaching work and practice to a client's given situation.

Required Textbook: DIAMONDS Core Competencies for Coaching: Coach-specific Training for Professional Coaches and Aspiring Coaches by Dr Merle Evelyn Ray (Author) (2017), ISBN 978-1720921318

Learning Objectives

- Identify and describe the International Coach Federation (ICF) Core Competency – EVOKES AWARENESS.
- Identify and describe active listening and its impact on the co-partnering perspective.
- Identify and describe how direct communication and asking questions evoke discovery, insight, commitment or action (e.g., those that challenge the client's assumptions).
- Identify and describe how a coach uses open-ended questions that create greater clarity, possibility or new learning.
- Identify and describe how powerful questioning and direct communication move the client forward toward what the client desires, not asking that the client justify or look backward.
- Identify and describe being clear, articulate and direct in sharing and providing feedback.
- Identify and describe reframing and articulating to help the client understand from another perspective what he/she wants or is uncertain about.

- Identify and describe clearly stating coaching objectives, meeting agenda, and purpose of techniques or exercises.
- Identify and describe how using language appropriate and respectful to the client at all times establishes the foundation to ensure the client has the best possible opportunity to reach his/her goals.
- Identify and describe the importance of using metaphors and analogies to help to illustrate a point or paint a verbal picture.
- Identify and describe the use of silence, voice tones, as well as non-verbal communication to help support the client's self-discovery.

D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. are self-discovered jewels found by clients working in partnership with the coach who is fully present in the moment. In D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. Coach-Specific Training coaches learn how to help their clients elevate their brilliance through mastery of coaching fundamentals. The term, D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. stands for “dynamically integrated actions mined on the needs, dimensions, and specifics” of the client to signify that competent confident coaching is like mining for precious stones. In D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. we have embraced the International Coach Federation’s (ICF) 2021 updated core competencies and professional standards, as well as ICF’s code of ethics, definition of coaching, and critical foundations that serve as central components of our learning and mastery. In addition to lectures, students will start setting their time for coaching labs, mentor coach supervision, and coach performance evaluations. Using the International Coach Federation (ICF) foundations, this course outlines and describes for coach practitioners and students the DIAMONDS approach available to them in their coaching work to apply competent application of a guided system of coaching practices that aid in supporting the client’s objective for coaching.

Method:	Asynchronous/Self-study	Schedule: 16-hours (Lessons 113-120)

--------------------------	----------------------------

Just as diamonds are formed through a combination of tremendous pressure and temperatures miles beneath the earth's surface, and have to be mined by individuals seeking to uncover their brilliance, effective competent coaching allows a client to self-discover himself or herself beneath the surface, and covenant with self and coach to pursue and achieve a desired level of success. In this course, the student views the model of the "DIAMONDS" approach and how it helps the client to discover his/her meaningful indicators that provide deeper meaning and direction for the client who wishes to move from where they are today to where they want to be. By using the International Coach Federation (ICF) foundations, this course outlines and re-emphasizes how the DIAMONDS principles support the ICF guiding systems of coaching, the benefits of coaching for both the client and the coach, core values of coaching, and an illustrative model in action which is available to students in their coaching work to apply competent application of a guided system of coaching practices that aid in supporting the client's objective for coaching.

This learning experience provides a dedicated time for participants to practice and set up their coaching sessions with real coaches or clients, become centered for coaching and reflect on the coach's responsibility for being present in the guiding system. It is for students who would like to use their time in journaling, reflection, coaching time practicing, and developing their coaching practice for this time of focused study. Participants must conduct and submit their recorded coaching sessions and/or their lessons: research, journaling, reflecting, or homework in their journals to receive credit. Credit will be given for no more than 15-course time hours for this independent study. The M-CPC-112-A is the Audit of the Independent Study core course. Students will prepare an exercise for this course which covers the content learned in all previous Audit Courses G-CPC-101-A through M-CPC-111-A. This exercise must be submitted to the instructor by the required due date. See syllabus for details on how to complete the Audit Independent Study for M-CPC-112-A. No online assessment is required to pass this course number. However, the student must satisfactorily complete the assignments as described above.

Learning Objectives

Students will describe or demonstrate their understanding of the coaching practices learned in DIAMONDS and ICF's foundation of guided systems in coaching practices.
